Mrs. Peggy P. Hill, Red Cross executive secretary, said today that some classes already will be crowded and that no pupils will be accepted at the pools unless they have been registered in advance.

The beginners will be taught by Miss Helen Strieby, East Berlin, and Janet Johnson of Gettysburg with the help of volunteer assistants. Garnet Coble Jr. will teach the classes at the college pool and Miss Dorothy Myers of Fairfield will teach the adult evening classes.

Arrangements for the affair are being made by the Pennsylvania Correspondents Association who propose to focus nation-wide attention on the commercialization of the field with the hope that sufficient funds will be made available to purchase land over which the three days' Battle of Gettysburg was fought.

More than 200 members of the correspondents' group and members of the legislature are expected to attend. The committee in charge also expects to attract several thousand to the program at the monument.

President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon have been invited.

Plans for work for the year were discussed at the first meeting of the new board of the Adams County Council of Republican Women held in the basement meeting room of the court house on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, president, presided, with all 11 members present.

The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. D. Edwin Benner, secretary. Mrs. Howard H. Seek More Members
Mrs. Blaine Hughes, Mrs. Emory Gitt and Mrs. Buehler reported on the program-membership workshop held in Penbrook last month. Mrs. Hughes said many of the suggestions given there would be used by the Adams County council this year. Substituting for Mrs. Margaret Walter, program chairman, who is in Europe this summer, she made suggestions to committee chairmen for monthly programs. A summer event for junior Republicans will be sponsored by Mrs. James Schwenk and her committee.

Mrs. A. W. Butterfield, vice chairman of the Republican committee, presented an invitation from County Chairman H. Earl Pitzer for the board of the women's council to attend his meeting for all county committeemen on June 24 at Cashtown.

Committees will meet this month and select their projects which will then be presented to the program committee for coordination and a printed program card will be prepared for members. Plans are also being made by the membership committee to contact all registered Republican women in the county for membership in the council as well as all now unregistered. Mrs. Emory Gitt, Littlestown, R. D., is chairman of that committee. The board will meet again on July 8 at the home of the president.

DONATE $4,578 TO FIREMEN IN RECENT DRIVE

Gettysburg residents donated $2,183.85 to the Gettysburg Fire Department in its recent solicitation campaign and residents outside the borough, in the area served by the department, gave $2,395 and 99 chickens, both increases over last year, but the firemen were scolded by President Raymond Menges for being "derelict in their duty."

Menges said that firemen should be conscious of their voluntary responsibilities as firemen and that they should assist in affairs of the department as well as fight fires. He bemoaned the fact that only 19 firemen helped solicit 16 evenings in Gettysburg and that fewer firemen assisted in the rural area solicitation. Menges expressed the hope that the members will lend more cooperation in the future. He expressed his personal thanks to the firemen who helped solicit. He made an appeal for men to give as much time as they can during the forthcoming festival.

The Adams County Firemen's Association will hold its quarterly meeting in Brutsstown July 6.

"Snorkel" Mail Box Installed Here

A "snorkel" or drive-in type of mail box has been installed in Gettysburg for the convenience of motorists who wish to deposit mail for dispatch without leaving their cars.

The curb-service box, shown above, is located on E. High St. at the rear of the post office lot. Walter T. Mehning, Cumberland Twp. tax collector, is seen making first use of the box which was installed Wednesday afternoon.

Postmaster Jacob G. Appler explained the choice of location.

Since E. High St. is one-way it has been possible to locate the box so that it can be reached from the driver's side. "It is hard to reach across the front seat of the newer cars to deposit mail in a box on the right side," Appler said.

He said a similar arrangement will be attempted in locating another snorkel box at the Gettysburg Shopping Center, West St., sometime in the near future.

Appler said that collections of mail from the new box will be made weekdays at 6:30 a.m. and 3:30, 4:30 and 5:30 p.m.; Sundays at 6 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. and holidays at 6 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. The box, similar to other letter boxes, is equipped with an additional chute to receive mail from the street side. On the sidewalk side, it has a package compartment. (Times Photo)

HERE AND THERE
The four-part series of articles on the Long regime in Louisiana which The Times is publishing brings to the mind of this reporter memories of his visit to Baton Rouge, La., 22 years ago. The occasion was a fruitless attempt to prevail upon the Louisiana governor the Legislature to vote a $5,000 appropriation for the Eternal Light Peace Memorial which was dedicated during the last reunion of the Blue and Gray here in 1938.

Aboard a Pullman between Shreveport and Baton Rouge we met wealthy state senator who was prevailed upon to enter politics by Huey Long, and a dentist, an ardent Long admirer. They were interested only in talking about Huey Long. We were content to listen.

After breakfast at the Heidelberg Hotel we walked to the state capitol, a towering 34-story building which Long had built. No one could have erected such a structure as cheaply as Huey Long. It is said he brow-beat Louisianians to donate, contractors to slash.

Herter Quizzes Gromyko On Futility Of Berlin Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter met with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today to find out if there is any basis for continuing negotiations for a Berlin agreement.

Taking the lead for the West in the Big Four negotiations, Herter met with Gromyko after consulting with his Western colleagues.

Herter had talked for 30 minutes with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, and Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe of West Germany.

Gromyko showed some signs of willingness to lower his price for ending the Soviet threat to West Berlin temporarily.

Deadline Is Negotiable
Other Soviet spokesmen said the one-year deadline is negotiable and indicated the Soviets might agree to a longer period of Western occupation. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin at a press briefing called on the West to make counterproposals so that the negotiations could proceed.

The Western foreign ministers, however, remained adamantly opposed to any deadline on their occupation of the former German capital. U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told the foreign ministers' conference that the Western occupation rights were not granted by the Soviets and "they are not rights which the Soviets can cancel, assign or modify."

Close to 70 miles of state roads and highways in Adams County are scheduled for resurfacing, oiling or re-building this summer, State Highway Superintendent for Adams County Clyde O. Garber said today.

Some of the surface treatment already is under way. The oiling will be completed this week while most of the resurfacing jobs are scheduled for next month. Preliminary grading is being done now for the road-building jobs with completion set for late August.

No extra summer help was put on this year but all of the work is being done by the regular highway workers—about 130 of them.

PRESIDENTIAL ASPIRANTS AT NEW YORK FETE

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two old friends meet in New York today, share ceremonial honors, review the Atlantic Fleet and fly off—perhaps symbolically—in different directions.

Their meeting would be regarded as little more than routine if it weren't for the certainty that Vice President Richard M. Nixon will seek the 1960 GOP presidential nomination and the speculation that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York may make a contest of it.

Ahead of Nixon and Rockefeller were schedules aimed at reaffirming old political associations, making new friends and perhaps influencing people.

Flying to New York, Nixon was to join Rockefeller, Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and Mayor Robert F. Wagner Jr. of New York City in ceremonies celebrating the 350th anniversary of the discovery of the Hudson River.

Four Aspirants

Despite the grouping of four potential presidential aspirants, this was listed as a strictly non-partisan affair. If they aren't exactly in the class of Nixon and Rockefeller as possible contenders, Meyner and Wagner have had mention for the Democratic nomination.

Parting after the ceremonies, Rockefeller will fly to Washington while Nixon takes off for San Francisco.

Following strictly his line that he is interested only in being a good governor, Rockefeller arranged an afternoon meeting with a bipartisan group of New York members of Congress to discuss nonpolitical state problems.

Renew Friendships

Later Rockefeller will renew old friendships and perhaps add some new ones among fellow members of the Capitol Hill Club, a convivial Republican organization he helped form.

Stepping up his activities outside Washington, Nixon will speak in San Francisco to the Commonwealth Club, before which a number of presidential possibilities have displayed their talents in the past.

Flying to Virginia City, Nev., Friday, Nixon will officially open Nevada's centennial celebration. He will attend a reunion of his class at Whittier College, Whittier, Calif., Saturday, open a new section of Disneyland Sunday, and receive the first doctor of laws degree given by the University of San Diego Monday.

York Springs

Mrs. Esta Coulson Times Reporter — Phone 34-R-2

YORK SPRINGS — Seven Cub Scouts with their den mothers, Mrs. Leroy Fink and Mrs. Roger Smith, and Joanne Fink, Sandy Helman and Randy Smith went to Gettysburg to tour the Arquette Soldiers Museum, Cyclorama and the Jennie Wade House recently.

They met Michael Arquette, son of Cliff Arquette, while at the museum. The tour of the Jennie Wade house was particularly interesting to Charles Fink, one of the Cubs, as his great-grandfather, who was about five years old and crippled, was on a high chair near where Jennie Wade was making the bread when she was shot. Jennie took care of the little boy whose name was Isaac Henry Brinkerhoff, father of the late Clarence Brinkerhoff, of York Springs. The Cubs stopped enroute home for refreshments.

The York Springs Methodist father and son banquet will be held Saturday evening at 6:30 p.m. The Rev. Robert Jones will be the speaker.

NEGRO GIVEN PUPIL OVATION

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Dr. Alvin Loving, a Negro educator, whose invitation as commencement speaker first was rescinded under racial pressure and then reinstated after protests from high school pupils and teachers, was given a standing ovation as he stepped to the rostrum Wednesday night.

The class valedictorian discarded her prepared speech and, in tears, praised fellow seniors for their stand.

Loving, a faculty member of the University of Michigan's Flint branch, spoke to the 61 graduates of the all-white Flint Dye High School after the school board rescinded an earlier cancellation of his appearance.

Board Reverses Itself The board first had bowed to pressure from citizens who objected to Loving as a speaker "because he is a Negro," said Glenn Hutchins, a school trustee in the all-white suburb of Flint Township.

The board voted unanimously to reverse itself.

There was no incident as Loving stepped to the platform. Instead he was greeted by an ovation from the 1,000 persons at the commencement exercises.

Loving said "nowhere but in America is it possible for one to receive a reception like I received tonight."

Blonde Beverly Newton discarded her valedictory address. Instead, spending hardly more than a tearful minute on the stage, Beverly told her fellow graduates: "I think we've all learned more than we realize and will remember it the rest of our lives."

Rotary Publishes Book On "Peace"

An April publication of Rotary International, the "Seven Paths to Peace," examines in detail the means by which the individual Rotarian can apply the seven points of the "Outline of Policy" in international service adopted by the board of directors of Rotary International.

The policy grew out of the objective of Rotary dealing with the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace through a world of fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service. The policy was drawn up after painstaking research resulting from a questionnaire addressed to Rotarians throughout the world and later assembled into a composite statement.

The seven points examined are the ways to world peace through patriotism, conciliation, freedom, progress, justice, sacrifice and loyalty.

The book also examines the impact of Rotary activity through such measures as fellowships, scholarships, etc., on the advancement of understanding and world peace.

WANT INMATE HELD FOR JURY IN SLAYING

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An Allegheny County coroner's jury recommended today that John Butler, a Western Penitentiary inmate, be held for the grand jury on a murder charge in the shooting of James R. Lauer, Northumberland County sheriff.

The recommendation, which must be followed by the district attorney's office, means that Butler's case now goes before the next grand jury. If indicted he will face trial.

The jury's recommendation came after an inquest at which Coroner William D. McClelland remarked that kindness didn't pay off for Sheriff Lauer. McClelland made the remark as the inquest began.

Lauer was transferring a prisoner, John Butler, from Northumberland County to Western Penitentiary when the shooting occurred May 27 along Route 19 in McCandless Township.

Butler, who has served 19 years in New York and Pennsylvania prisons, was in the back seat of the car. Lauer and a friend, Merlin Diehl, were in the front seat. Diehl was driving.

Seizes Revolver
Butler, who was handcuffed to a leather belt about his waist, lunged over the front seat and grabbed the sheriff's .38 revolver under some newspapers on the front seat. In the ensuing scuffle, Lauer was shot.

Butler was captured the next day after one of the most intensive manhunts in Allegheny County's history.

Allegheny County Sheriff William Davis, who led the hunt, told the coroner's jury that Butler said Lauer had treated him "very, very fine."

McClelland commented: "This is one case where kindness didn't pay off."

County Homicide Chief Ted Botula testified that Butler admitted the slaying in a statement made to detectives.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Samuel Strauss said he would not produce the statement at the inquest. He said he would hold it for the trial.

DIFFERENT TWIST

NEW YORK (AP)—Don Juan is a favorite theater theme, but playwright George Axelrod has found an entirely new switch on the story for his new play, "Goodbye, Charlie."

This is the author's description of the script which is due on Broadway next season:

"The story is about a modern Don Juan. Before the play opens he has been shot by an irate husband. As punishment he is compelled to return to earth as the most beautiful girl in the world."

Young Moderns

BY VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer
What dreams does a 13th birthday hold? There are some girls who can't wait to enter their teens for the dates, later curfew and, perhaps, a hope chest.

But one girl, Deanne Taylor of Toronto, Canada, hopes it will mean longer dresses, and may be even higher heels than the flats she wears now.

"I still dress like a child," says the 12-year-old exhibiting her little flowered pinafore worn above the knees, "but I'm supposed to look young because I play the part of a 7 or 8-year-old, Maggie Muggins, on television, and that's why I don't wear grown up dresses."

Pixie-faced Deanne has bright sparkling blue eyes, is 4-feet-6, wears her hair in pigtails for her TV role. During an interview she sported a pony tail. Her role of Mary Muggins on Canadian television brings a storybook character alive. The little girl is a role of fantasy in books written by Mary Grannan, now published in the United States.

"The show is only 15 minutes, but it doesn't take me long to memorize my part. I have a good memory," says Deanne, who has been playing the role for three years, but feels that any day now she may grow up and that'll be the end of the part.

"I think I'm good for another year, though," she says, "no matter what happens. The funny thing is I even look smaller on TV than I do in real life."

The role takes very little time from school for the seventh grader. She loses about one-half day a week, including rehearsals, manages to stay in advanced classes and maintains an A average. Her father is a college professor.

She performs in drama and ballet on other television programs from time to time.

Deanne doesn't date boys — yet — although she meets them at parties. She expects to begin dating in a year or two.

Her age is never mentioned on television because the program also appeals to younger children.

Her brother, Burke, 10, isn't jealous of her show-work, she says, "because he gets a chance to do TV commercials once in a while, and also is so interested in sports he doesn't care much what I do."

prices and used other means to get funds.

In the center of the capitol grounds is a large slab of stone, about 6 or 7 feet square, rising a few inches above ground. It was the burial plot of Huey Long. We paused. The two Long admirers removed their hats and bowed their heads. We were not that fond of Huey Long.

The dentist spoke first. After a few minutes of silence he raised his head to the blue sky, closed his eyes and said: "Here's to Huey Long, second only to Jesus Christ."

Then the wealthy plantation owner and state senator, not to be outdone, said:

"When I die I want to go to Heaven. First I want to see God, then I want to see Huey Long."

We stood there in silence. There were about a dozen or more containers of various sizes and shapes on the headstone, each containing a bouquet of flowers, some fresh, some wilted.

I asked: "Is this a special occasion . . . all these vases of flowers?"

"No," my two companions said in unison. "Friends and admirers visit this place every day and many bring flowers. It is never without flowers."

Hugh A. Mulligan, who is writing the Long series for The Times and other AP papers, tells of the flowers on Huey's grave in today's piece 22 years after the incident we speak of.

One newspaper publisher told me that he hoped to live long enough to have an opportunity to dig out Huey Long's bones and throw them in the Mississippi River. He didn't.

The capitol is a beautiful building, modern in every respect, and loaded with all kinds of marble.

In the marble-walled lobby there has been laid in the marble floor a large outline of the state of Louisiana, in brass. Each parish (county) is also outlined and embedded in brass; in the center of each parish is a symbol of its principal product.

A large marble walled corridor runs across the entire breadth of the building, off which is the spacious governor's office. Across the corridor and directly opposite the entrance to the governor's office are two marble pillars.

My guard paused and, almost in reverence, said, "Here is where our beloved Huey was brutally shot to death by a dentist." Then he pointed out 54 or 64 bullet holes (we can't recall which figure he gave) in the floor, walls and ceiling.

Huey had emerged from the governor's office (he was a U. S. senator at the time) with 36 bodyguards. The dentist was crouching beside one of the pillars trying to hide himself, which was impossible because the pillar was not large enough. As Huey stepped out the dentist opened fire and pumped several bullets into his body.

The surprised guards opened fire and kept firing all over the place. They pumped lead into him, into the floor, the walls and the ceiling. One southerner told me, "They must have acted as though they were crazy."

We called on the then Governor Richard "Dick" Lesche, a big, bouncy, boisterous fellow, rather good looking, too. (He later was arrested, convicted and sent to prison for embezzlement.)

We explained our mission. He appeared interested. We gave him a gift from Gettysburg, a piece of wood with a bullet in it, taken from the battlefield. He was so tickled that he lugged us all over the building introducing our reporter to scores of people and showing each the gift. He acted like a boy with a toy. Lesche said, "Louisiana will give Pennsylvania $5,000 for the memorial."

We were introduced to senators and members of the House, were invited to attend a session later in the day, which we did. The leaders said, "Don't worry, we'll give you the $5,000."

We invited a few leaders to lunch at the Heidelberg. Before lunch was over we were hosting more than 70 legislators.

We left Baton Rouge happy . . . assured of receiving $5,000. But this was one pledge and promise the Long faction failed to keep.

gation, recently issued a statement with reference to summertime crimes. It makes sense, good reading and if adhered to might save many lives. It follows in full:

Summertime, the customary period for leisure and relaxation, is certainly not the season for a vacation from crime prevention. Day and night, twelve months of the year, the criminal plots and plies his nefarious trade. The carefree atmosphere of summer living and the relaxed attitude of vacation-bound citizens, however, give the lawbreaker many additional opportunities for illegal gain.

In recent years, local programs of alerting the public to these seasonal crime hazards have produced beneficial results for many progressive law enforcement agencies. The co-operation of citizens in protecting themselves and their property increases community police cooperation and greatly lessens the chances of success for the lawless.

Each summer there is an exodus of countless Americans away from their homes to the mountains, the seashore, parks or some other favorite spot. In far too many instances, these householders, who would not think of leaving their windows or doors open at night while at home, will completely fail to provide any protection for their vacated domiciles. Unlocked windows and doors, accumulated newspapers or milk bottles, notes on the door for the attention of delivery men, drawn window shades, and other tell-tale signs of absence serve as invitations for burglars and thieves.

Coincidentally with the rise of the thermometer in the warm months, the intensity and frequency of crimes of passion and violence increase. In this category, the hitchhiker and the child molester have become especially dangerous menaces. A vital form of life insurance for the motoring public is the policy of avoiding the beckoning thumb of the unknown wanderer on the highway. In the gamble with the hitchhiker the unwary motorist risks his own safety as well as the lives of his family or friends traveling with him.

As a fundamental preventive measure against the child molester, it is imperative that parents impress upon their youngsters the dangers of playing in lonely and secluded spots, accepting invitations for rides, or taking gifts or enticements from strangers. In the face of the harrowing crimes committed on innocent children by depraved sex maniacs, a little time and attention on the part of parents are indeed a logical contribution to crime prevention.

By far the largest group of lawbreakers is the army of careless and negligent motor vehicle operators, presenting a serious police problem on every highway and road in the land. The deluge of traffic violators who sap the manpower and strength of law enforcement ranges from the illegal parker who creates inconvenience to the reckless or drinking who causes bloodshed and destruction on the road. Particularly during this season when the highways are overcrowded with travelers, obedience to the traffic regulations by motorists can prove to be a positive program in the public interest.

In the all-out effort to stem the annual tide of summertime crime, law enforcement must necessarily seek and obtain the wholehearted cooperation of the public. Crime prevention is both community and personal insurance. Assuredly, individual alertness and caution are reasonable premiums for each citizen to pay for his own protection.

HOUSE VOTES TO GIVE PID NEW POWER

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House has passed and sent to the Senate an administration-backed bill that would empower the Public Instruction Department to operate financially distressed school districts.

The measure passed without debate Wednesday 188-3.

It would give the public instruction superintendent broad powers in running distressed districts. He would be authorized to draft their budgets, negotiate teachers' contracts, increase local taxes and appoint a special collector of delinquent taxes.

Under the proposal, school directors in the district could be dismissed for failure to carry out the superintendent's instructions. The measure defines distressed districts as those which:

Fail to pay teachers within 30 days; fail to pay tuition dues of other districts by the following January; one a joint board money for 60 days; have bonds in default for 90 days without initiating steps to pay them; make unauthorized loans, and have a deficit for a two-year period of 2 per cent of the district's assessed property valuation.

State May Be Heir To Ewing Estate

Possible escheat of the estate of Otis Ewing, late of Gettysburg, who died last December 17, is indicated in the administration papers filed in the office of the register and recorder, J. Francis Yake Jr., local attorney, is administrator of the estate listed as having a value of about $500, all personal property. Listed as a possible heir is an unnamed son whose last known address is reported as Chicago.

Cora M. Anderson, East Berlin, has filed an administration bond in the estate of her late husband, F. M. Anderson, East Berlin, who died June 4. The estate is listed as having a value of about $5,000, all personal. Mrs. Anderson is listed as the only heir.

Joel successfully spelled the word "fanfaronade" after Robert missed it. Then under the rules he successfully negotiated one more word, "catamaran" to clinch the championship.

Victorian Furnishings In Ascendancy, Many Went In Discard In Recent Years

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"Love your mother-in-law," counsels the Countess of Rosse, "and your children may, as a consequence, inherit some treasured heirlooms."

The future heirlooms which Lady Rosse has in mind particularly are the products of the Victorian and Edwardian period—from 1837 to 1914—and which, until very recently, have been the subject of the aesthete's scorn.

"Women," said the English wife of the Irish sixth Earl of Rosse, "have a universal urge to sweep out the treasures of a previous generation to make room for the newest thing. Sometimes I think it is based on an idea of getting rid of evidences of a mother-in-law's taste."

Lady Rosse, visiting this country with her husband, is a founder and vice chairman of a newly formed Victorian Society in England. Its purpose is, as she says, "to make sure that the best Victorian buildings and their contents do not disappear before their merits are more generally appreciated."

Values Shifting

Apparently in England the vogue for Victorian has lagged behind the United States. For several years now in this country Victorian styles have been returning to decorating fashion. Pieces which used to be regarded as horrors of bad taste suddenly became "amusing," and now are even referred to as "perfect."

In the United States, the long period of Victoria's reign and the short reign of her son, Edward VII, coincided with the presidential administrations from Martin Van Buren to Theodore Roosevelt. Somewhere far back was the administration of General Grant, whose name until recently has been used to describe what was considered the worst of the Victorian mode—the heavy plush, the over-carved wood, the dark mahogany, the fringe, the antimacassars, heaviness, busy-ness.

But to Lady Rosse, Victorian is neither amusing nor gimmick. "Much of it perfectly beautiful—great design," she insists. "The problem is to pull out the good from the bad—of course, there is a lot of bad in every period."

Choice Period

"In Victoria's reign came the Industrial Revolution, but before everything was swept into the machine age, there was a period when design and individual craftsmanship were never better. This period continued in England well into the 1870s."

A great deal of Victorian treasure here and abroad has already been lost, says Lady Rosse, because it has been thrown away by families who were either interested in buying new or collecting an older more popular period. And more, she fears, will vanish as more and more people live in apartments and houses without either cellars or attics in which to store pieces not in use.

"What interests the historian and the collector in early Victorian is the way it illustrates a shift in people's ideas of living," she said. "At the moment, a lot of people are fascinated by the Georgian period which preceded it. That was a period when the people who could afford it lived with great formality. Furniture was stately, rooms were a little cold."

"Then came the revolt against this formal and coolly beautiful period. People wanted irregularity—they started building towers on small houses. They wanted to get away from the classical and have something homey and intimate."

Excesses Occurred

"So they started crowding in things—palm, glassware, silverware, lots of busy design. And of course, as the trend continued, it went too far."

Many fine examples of the Victorian period have been preserved in England by families who, unable to afford to throw it out and buy new, covered up unfashionable satinwood chairs so that nothing was visible but the legs.

"These would have been destroyed if covers hadn't been nailed over them," she said. "Now the covers are coming off, and people are delighted with their treasures."

Lady Rosse doesn't want English and American homeowners to throw out their Swedish modern and replace it with portiers and ball fringe.

"But if you have an old piece, use it along with the modern," she urges. "After all, life goes on and one era slides into another; life isn't broken up like building blocks, and neither should be the interior of one's home."

KILLED IN CRASH

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — James V. Stanton, 22, Williamsport, was killed in an auto crash Wednesday night five miles north of nearby Montoursville.

State police said Stanton was a passenger in a sports car driven by Francis P. Gstalder 33, also of Williamsport.

Police said Gstalder apparently lost control of the car. It ran off the highway and upset, pinning Stanton underneath.

Today's Talk

IT'S A GOOD WORLD
It's a good world, no matter how much evil has been poured upon it. God set the example and here I quote from a late revised version of the Bible where God is represented as saying: "And so it was so. And God saw everything that he had made, and behold it was very good."

It's man who has mused up things, and who has been responsible for the bad things and wrongs that have become manifest in this most beautiful of all worlds. God arranged for everything that was essential to make our world as perfect as could be possible. He created and arranged for everything that moves and has its being and place.

Naturalists are among the most religious and happy of human beings because they look into the life of things. They look for, and discover, everything of beauty that exists, though it is a lifetime job. They just work, and write, and pray that the good may forever triumph, no matter how many difficulties they have to experience. If it were possible for a naturalist to take his seat in space you would discover millions of them comfortably seated there a star!

There are millions more good people in the world than there are bad ones. That's why this world is not going to end in a smash, but will last forever! The most inspired human beings in this world are those with courage, patience and humility. They are people of faith and definite beliefs. They are the salt of the earth. They are the ones who are constantly feeding love and goodwill to all with whom they come in contact. What other kind of people and world would you prefer!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "YOU Are Opportunity"

Just Folks

THE BRAVE MAN
The happiest man on earth today
Has some excuse to wail;
And if he were disposed to, he Could tell a hard luck tale.
Full many an hour of anguish and
Of bitterness he's had,
But shining through it all he finds
Some reason to be glad.

And to this reason to rejoice
The brave man ever clings;
He's lived his hard luck stories, but
In spite of them he sings.
His heart has felt the sting of grief,
In sorrow he has wept,
But still his faith in God and man
Throughout it all he's kept.

WILL APPEAL

COURT RULING

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — James
R. Hoffa says his Teamsters union will respect a court ruling Wednesday that the Teamsters must obey reform orders. But he said he will appeal the ruling.

"We may not like it (the decision) in its entirety but we will respect it just the same," Hoffa said at a Teamster rally. "Be assured, though, it's only a matter of time until we file an appeal."

A federal appeals court ruled Wednesday in Washington that the much-investigated union must comply with recommendations of the monitors, appointed by a federal judge after Hoffa was elected president of the union in 1957.

The Teamsters president spoke scathingly of the Senate Investigating committee; Sen. John F.
Kennedy (D-Mass.); Kennedy's brother, Robert, counsel for the committee; and fellow labor leaders Walter Reuther and James Carey.

Denies Charges
"Don't believe any of the phony charges of corruption and crime," Hoffa told a cheering crowd of 2,800. "Judge us by what you are earning now compared with what you are earning before the union."

"Nothing is going to destroy this union," he said.

Hoffa said that Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and Carey, head of the International Union of Electrical workers, had criticized him "to divert attention from their own weaknesses. We're growing by thousands, while their unions are dwindling rapidly."

PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A distracted man's attempt to kill himself and efforts of a brother and a woman friend to stop him touched off a flurry of big time crime busting activity in North Philadelphia Wednesday.

For a while police thought they had cornered at least one of two brothers wanted in connection with the murder of patrolman
James Kane, 33, last week.

Barricaded in a second floor front room was Charles Adair, 65, an unemployed painter, a veteran of World War I, and a bachelor, who said he wanted to commit suicide because of financial troubles.

Warns People
Adair, a former patient at By-berry State Hospital, fired shotgun blasts, to warn people away, he said.

Adair said he intended to kill no one but himself.

Adair was charged with reckless use of firearms, disorderly conduct and breach of the peace.
He is scheduled to have a hearing today.

The FBI has joined the search for the two brothers sought in the fatal shooting of Kane.

Warrants charging willful homicide were issued Wednesday for John J. Coyle, 23, and his brother,
William, 21.

John W. Mickle Jr., R. 2, was commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in the artillery following graduation ceremonies at Penn State Uni-

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Mickle Sr., are shown pinning the lieuten-

BRAVES LOSE TO CARDS FOR 2ND STRAIGHT

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

For all their pitching depth, maybe Milwaukee's Braves made a mistake when they ended Gene Conley's rebellion by peddling the right-hander to Philadelphia.

They've lost seven of their last 12 games, with only three complete games from their staff in that span. And Wednesday night they lost their second in a row, 5-2 at St. Louis, reducing their National League lead to one game while Conley was beating Los Angeles 2-1 with a four-hitter.

Conley, who was peddled after an 0-6 season because he refused to quit his winter job with professional basketball's champion Boston Celtics, has lost as many as he's won (3-3), but that's not bad for a pitcher with a last place club.

Giants Close In

While the Braves continued to stumble, second place San Francisco closed in with an 11-7 victory at Pittsburgh. Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-4.

Conley gave up nothing but singles, walked only one and struck out two in a duel with loser Danny McDevitt (3-6) and Clem Labine.

The Braves scored in the first two innings on home runs by Hank Aaron (16) and Del Crandall (8), but the Cards came from behind for three unearned runs in the fifth on an error, Manager Solly Hemus' pinch double and two-out batters by Gino Cimoli and Bill White. Bob Rush (4-2) was the loser.

Kellner Wins

Alex Kellner (2-1) was the winner with Lindy McDaniel's relief help over the last four frames.

Willie Kirkland and Orlando Cepeda homered for the Giants, who cracked six Pirate pitchers for 19 hits. Winless George Witt lost his fifth. Sam Jones (7-5) won his fourth in a row.

Solo homers by Roy McMillan and Frank Robinson in the last two innings clinched it for the Reds. Bob Purkey (6-7), beat the Cubs for the first time since 1955. He allowed only four hits, but gave way to reliever Orlando Pena because of a blistered finger in the eighth. Glen Hobbie (6-6) was the loser for the Cubs.

Littlestown Little League

The Orioles handed the Phillies their initial defeat in the Littlestown Little League Wednesday evening 8-3.

Louey Orndorff and J. Sager formed the winning battery. J. Morelock started for the Phillies and was relieved in the second by B. Weaver. D. Basehor was the catcher.

Big Little League Will Add Players

Due to the desire of many more youngsters desiring to play Big League ball, President Glenn L. Bream has decided to open league rosters for more assignments.

All boys of the 13-15 age bracket desiring to play are requested to report at the Big Little League diamond at the recreation park Friday evening at 6 o'clock when the new members will be assigned to teams.

Fairfield Lions League

Fairfield made its debut in the Fairfield Lions League by handing Cashtown its second straight reverse Wednesday evening 6-1 at Cashtown.

The winners rapped out seven hits while Weikert limited Cashtown to singles by Lloyd Flohr and Tom Duane.

Mummasburg scored a run in the last inning with two out to gain a 7-7 tie in its game with Orrtanna on the Mummasburg diamond. Darkness then halted the contest. It will be replayed on Friday, June 19.

Ray Trembow sparked Orrtanna's 11-hit attack with three singles and a triple and scored three runs. D. Wilson doubled for Mummasburg with the bases loaded in the fourth. Mummasburg secured five hits.

Fairfield Little League

Behind the one-hit, one-run pitching of Don Dick, the Pirates were able to retain their hold on first place in the Fairfield Little League as they trounced the Braves 11-1 Wednesday evening.

Dick struck out four and walked one to capture the win. Steve Rebert and Ronnie Schultz divided the mound duty for the Braves. The top hitter of the evening was Pete Nelson who went four for four, including a double. Mike Reindollar secured the only hit for the Braves.

TOUGH TOPICK OPEN WINNER

MAMARONECK, N. Y. (AP) — Trying to pick the winner of the 56th National Open Golf Championship starting today is as useless as trying to hit a gnat with a peashooter.

There are so many unpredictable factors involved in the 150-man field that such an able and neutral observer as Jimmy Demaret said the 72-hole championship offers the greatest opportunity for an amateur victory since Bobby Jones stumbled in to tie Al Espinosa 30 years ago, then drubbed his pro rival in a 36-hole playoff.

Jones also won the next year en route to his Grand Slam of taking the British and U.S. Open and amateur titles. Since then only one amateur, Johnny Goodman in 1933, has won the Open crown.

No one, least of all dapper Demaret, really expects an amateur to win. "But I look for an amateur to be in there with a chance to win when they start the final round Saturday," Demaret said. De-

Gettysburg Little League

The Glenn L. Bream "Yankees" broke into the win column for the first time this season at the expense of the Moose as they captured a close 5-3 decision Wednesday evening on the Recreation Field.

The Breammen tallied three runs in the bottom of the second. Mike Treas led off with a single followed by a walk to Jim Redding. Little Ronnie Redding then lashed a line single to left driving in Treas and advancing brother Jim to third. Tom McDermitt looped a high sacrifice fly ball to right scoring Jim Redding with the second run. Ronnie Redding stole second, went to third on the sacrifice fly and tallied on an infield miscue.

A single, an outfield error, a stolen base and an infield miscue sent Charlie Schlechter around the bases for the Bream's fourth run in the third. The winners tallied once in the fourth when Ronnie Redding belted a single, stole second and came home on Schlechter's line double to deep left field.

Moose Rally
The Moose tallied all three of their runs in an exciting sixth inning rally. With one out Tom Sneeringer singled, followed by Rick Fisel's smashing double and an outfield error which put Ron Plank on base. Kenny Hartman then lashed a double to right sending in Plank with the third score.

Charlie Schlechter returned to his old form as he turned in an outstanding performance both on the mound and at the plate. The young right-hander struck out 10 batters, walked one and allowed only five scattered hits. At the plate Schlechter had a perfect night with three for three including a double and an rbi. Mike Treas and Ronnie Redding also chipped in with added support as they collected a pair of hits for three trips to the plate for the winners.

Gary Hartman, who is slowing recuperating from a leg injury, turned in an excellent pitching performance for Manager "Bud" Knox's Moose. It was the first time Hartman has been allowed to pitch this season. Rick Fisel and Kenny Hartman came through with the much needed extra base power clutch hitting for the Moose.

Mule Dribblers To Play 24 Games

ALLENTOWN — The Muhlenberg basketball team will play a 24-game schedule, it was announced today by "Berg" athletic director Ray Whipple.

The Mule card for 1959-60 will feature one new opponent—Upsala—and dates at the Penn Palestra with Villanova and Temple. The Mules will host Upsala on December 12, and will journey to the Palestra on January 9 to tackle Villanova and on February 10 to oppose Temple.

Also returning to the local cagers' schedule after one-year lapse is Franklin and Marshall. The Diplomats are slated to appear at Memorial Hall on January 30.

The Cardinal and Gray have 14 games carded with Middle Atlantic Conference-University Division foes, highlighted by home-and-home attractions with LaSalle, Temple, Lafayette, Lehigh and Gettysburg. The Mules wound up in third place in last year's conference race.

NEW YORK (AP) — Elliott Burch, who trains Sword Dancer for the Brookmeade Stable, said today he regards the Belmont Stakes as a toss up with Black Hills the horse to beat instead of Royal Orbit.

Sword Dancer finished second in the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Florida Derby, three $100,000-plus races, before getting a hundred grand himself. That was in the Metropolitan Handicap May 30, when he whipped older horses at Belmont Park. 3

FOUR COLAVITO HOMERS BLAST ORIOLES OUT OF TIE FOR AL LEAD

By ED WILKS

Baltimore's Memorial Stadium is the toughest home run park in the majors. In the five years it has been a big league ball yard, only seven visiting sluggers had hit as many as two home runs in one game there. No one had hit three in one game.

Yet that's where Cleveland's Rocky Colavito tied a major league record Wednesday night by becoming the eighth player ever to hit four in one game. He also became only the third to do it with successive shots, tagging drives of 360, 400, 400-plus and 425 feet for the AL lead 11-8.

Colavito, 25, now has hit 18 for the season, one behind league leader Harmon Killebrew of Washington. These were his first of the year against the Orioles and they came against three right-handed sluggers. Colavito, a right-handed slugger, has hit all but three of his 18 off right-handers.

Chisox Beat Senators
With Baltimore jolted loose from a deadlock, Chicago's White Sox took a one-game lead in the AL by beating Washington 4-1. New York climbed above .500 for the first time since April 25 by defeating Kansas City 6-4, gaining control of fourth place by one percentage point over Detroit, despite a 10-9 Tiger victory at Boston.

Colavito, who walked in the first inning, drove in six runs and scored five with his 4-for-4 explosion. His homers — for a total of 105 in a five-year career — came in the third with one on, against left fielder Jerry Walker (4-3); in the fifth (bases empty) and sixty (one on) against Arnie Portocarrero; and in the ninth (bases empty) against Ernie Johnson. Three reached the left field bleachers, the other went over the left-center field fence.

Only Lou Gehrig of the Yankees (1932) and Pat Seery of the White Sox (1948) had hit four in one previously in the AL. Six have done it in the National League, the first, and Gehrig the only one to hit four in succession.

The Indians finished with six homers which were good for all but one of their runs. Minnie Minoso and Billy Martin hit the others the seventh for both.

Right-hander Gary Bell (5-5) was the winner with Mike Garcia's help in a four-run seventh. Early Wynn (8-4) gained his first complete game in five starts for the White Sox, beating the Senators with a five-hitter. A hit batter and an error by catcher Hal Naragon, allowing Al Smith to score while attempting an inside-the-park homer, gave the Sox two runs in the first inning against Hal Woodeschick (0-1).

11th Yank Win In 13
Elston Howard's two-run double clinched it for the Yankees as they scored four in the seventh. It was their 11th victory in their last 13 games and third in a row. Art Ditmar (4-4) was the winner against Bud Daley (5-4).

Al Kaline drove in four Detroit runs with four hits bringing in the winning run in the eighth with his second single. Reliever Tom Morgan (1-1) was the winner. Mike Fornieles (0-1) lost it in relief.

Thrill Drivers At Speedway Tonight

Bobby Abel, one of the "old pros" of stock car racing in these parts, will test his driving skills against the area's leading lead-footers when the jalopy jocks return to Lincoln Speedway Saturday, near Abbottstown, Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

The five-event program, sanctioned by the Hilly Rife Racing Association, is one of two attractions lined up for the Pigeon Hills plant this week.

"Thrills" Tonight
The "Tournament of Thrills," featuring Trans-World Daredevils and other top-flight stuntmen from the movies, speedways and television, will take over the nearby oval for two hours beginning at 8:30 tonight.

The ramp-to-ramp catapult of an automobile, fire wall barrier crashes and the deliberate rollover of stock sedans are on the agenda. Late-model Fords will be used.

The Hills track, a high-banked, half-mile strip, will be the scene of several special events this season, one of them carded in the near future.

On June 27, the Indianapolis-type racing cars, backed by the United Racing Club, largest group of its kind in the country, and the jalopies will share a double program.

Church Slow Pitch
No games were played in the Church Slow Pitch League Wednesday evening when the Methodist forfeited to the EUB team while the First Baptist 50-50 Class game was postponed by mutual agreement.

Hofstra Hosts Bullets Nov. 7

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y. — A nine-game schedule, featuring home contests with Bridgeport, C. W. Post, Muhlenberg, Gettysburg (November 7) and Scranton, has been arranged for the 1959 football squad at Hofstra College.

The engagements with neighborhood rival C. W. Post will be celebrated as Hofstra's annual Parents Day game, while the Muhlenberg test on October 31 has been designated by the Hofstra Alumni Association as the annual Homecoming Day game.

Road games will be played against Upsala, Temple, Springfield and Kings Point, and the Scranton game on November 26 at 10:30 a.m. will find the return of Thanksgiving Day collegiate football to the Long Island sports scene.

Hofstra will inaugurate its 1959 campaign against Upsala on Friday night, October 2, at East Orange, N. J. Bridgeport will help the Flying Dutchmen open up the home portion of the schedule on October 10.

SUGAR HART GETS DECISION

CHICAGO (AP) — Garnet (Sugar) Hart sat in his dressing room, wiping from his face the blood of his latest ring opponent, and set his sights high for his future in boxing.

He wants to meet welterweight champion Don Jordan right away. "He and I could have a real fine time in the ring. I can whip him," the division's No. 1 contender said Wednesday night after winning a bloody, unanimous 10-round decision over Isaac Logart in Chicago Stadium.

"I want to keep fighting, anyone," Hart maintained. "I hit him (Logart) low because I was rusty from not fighting for six months." A low blow cost Hart the fourth round.

Badly Beaten
Logart's face was a mass of blood during and after the fight. Blood streamed from an inch long cut above his right eye and from a gash in his upper lip. Hart's white trunks were stained red.

Someone asked Logart, a 26-year-old veteran from Camaguey, Cuba, who is ranked No. 10, if Hart was a good fighter. Quickly and silently, he nodded yes.

Hart, 23, weighing 147 to 149 for Logart, has a 28-2 record. Logart's is 55-13-7.

Golfers Perform Well At Baltimore

Miss Ann Rutherford and Mrs. Robert Davies, of the Gettysburg Country Club, have two-day totals of 165 and 185 in the Eastern Women's Golf Association tournament now being held in Baltimore.

Miss Rutherford turned in an 81 on Wednesday and Mrs. Davies shot an 88.

Miss Joanne Goodwin, Haverhill, Mass., continues to lead with a 150.

NEW YORK (AP) — A contract covering 22,500 long lines workers in 43 states was approved early today by negotiators for the Communications Workers of America and the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. Union members now vote on it. Terms were not made public.

COLAVITO'S FOUR HOMERS EQUAL RECORD

By GORDON BEARD
BALTIMORE (AP) — Rocky Colavito in a slump?

You'll get no takers from folks around these parts. Not after witnessing the Cleveland Indians' 25-year-old strong-boy whack four home runs out of spacious Memorial Stadium Wednesday night to tie a major league record accomplished only seven times previously.

Rocky entered the game with 4 hits in his last 30 times at bat and only one homer during the month of June. When the one-man carnage was over, Colavito had upped his homer total for the season to 18 — one behind American League leader Harmon Killebrew.

Felt No Pressure
"I felt no pressure whatever," a grinning Colavito said after the game. "I wasn't trying to hit the ball out of the park on any of them, I was only trying to get base hits."

That's sound strategy for any hitter in Memorial Stadium, where the fences fall away sharply from the 309-foot foul lines and measure 380 feet to right-center and left-center.

After walking in the first inning, here's how Colavito's record-tying performance went:

Third inning — A 360-foot drive into the left field bleachers off Jerry Walker with one on. "It was a slider down the middle. I didn't hit it too good."

Fifth inning — A 425-footer into the bleachers off Arnie Portocarrero, bases empty. "A slider or curve, inside and up a little bit."

Sixth inning — A 400-foot line shot over a wire fence in left-center, also off Portocarrero with one on. "A sinking fast ball, down and away a little bit."

Ninth inning — Another blast about as long as the second, off Ernie Johnson with the bases empty. "A fast ball, up and in."

Will Rocky try for a record fifth straight homer his first time up tonight?

"No, I think I'll punt," Rocky joked as he headed for the showers.

Major League Stars
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hitting — Rocky Colavito, Indians, tied major league record with four home runs in succession after a first-inning walk, scored five runs and drove in six in 11-8 victory over the Orioles.

Pitching — Gene Conley, Phillies gave up only four singles and walked just one for 2-1 victory over the Dodgers.

Unconditional Surrender Of Invaders Is Demanded

By JACK RUTLEDGE

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—Nicaragua's government today held out for the unconditional surrender of rebel invaders from Costa Rica after rejecting an offer from 45 of the insurgents to give up if given safe conduct out of the country.

Encouraged by eyewitness reports of rebel disintegration, the commander of Nicaragua's armed forces, Gen. Anastasio Somoza, said he thought the 45 would surrender today. They face trial, with nine-year prison terms the maximum penalty possible.

16 Flee To Mountains

Two newsmen who visited the rebel band and brought out their spokesman, said 16 of the group refused to give up and marched off into the mountains to continue their defiance of Gen. Somoza and his brother, President Luis Somoza.

According to government reports, the 16 holdouts are the biggest contingent still trying to fight the Somozas. Somoza claims another planeload of about 40 rebels who landed from Costa Rica nearly two weeks ago has been split into groups of twos and threes and is no longer a threat. Rumors of additional invasions have not materialized.

Despite the government claims and the eyewitness report, a Nicaraguan rebel radio heard in Honduras, said insurgents killed 86 Nicaraguan National Guardsmen in fighting for the town of Boaco, some 60 miles northeast of Managua. The broadcast added that newly acquired planes were bringing ammunition and weapons to the rebels in the Boaco area.

The newsmen who went by jeep and on foot to reach the rebel band were Mario Bisetti of the Columbia Broadcasting System and Rogelio Caparros of the Havana magazine Bohemia. They found them in the jungle about 100 miles east of Managua.

In Pitiful Condition

The newsmen said the insurgents were in pitiful condition, tired, hungry, frightened and eager to give up. They had not eaten for two days and had marched steadily for 21 hours.

Their leader, Pedro Joaquin Chamorro, scion of a prominent publishing family in Managua, let his comrades vote on whether to continue the fight.

All decided to surrender except Chamorro and 15 others, including Luis Gonzaga Cardenal, member of another prominent Nicaraguan family. They dubbed themselves fifty columnists and marched into the mountains.

The rest raised the white flag—a bed sheet on a long pole.

The rebels delegated Father Federico Arguello, a young Roman Catholic priest who had joined them as chaplain, to negotiate surrender terms with the National Guard, Nicaragua's army. The priest told Guard headquarters the men would give up if their lives were spared and they were allowed to leave the country.

LIQUOR SALES UP

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's 641 liquor stores did a record business during the fiscal year ended last May 31, the Liquor Control Board reported Wednesday. Chairman Patrick E. Kerwin said sales reached were $275,763,844. The previous high was $272,791,535 the year before.

Peru produces more than half the world's vanadium—a metallic element to increase tensile strength in alloy steel.

ASSAILS GOP STAND ON PA. BUDGET NEEDS

By FRED B. WALTERS

HARRISBURG (AP) — House Speaker H. G. Andrews said today he doesn't believe the Republican opposition to taxes is on sound ground.

"They have either failed to see or don't admit the necessity of certain expenditures," Andrews said in an interview.

"If they would give us a figure and say that is all you need—absolutely—without new legislation, I would say that is a logical position," the Cambria County Democrat declared, adding: "But I don't believe them."

"Not Going To Cut It"

"They talk of a reckless budget that is 100 million dollars in excess of needs. I don't know by what political rule of thumb they arrived at that figure. They know very well they're not going to cut 100 million."

"There is an absolute need for expenditures up to a certain amount."

"We now have about $1,660,000 in taxes on the books. Both sides know we're going to spend above that."

Pleaded For GOP Help

The Democrats, with a slim majority in the House, pleaded for Republican help last week to pass a portion of the administration's 210-million-dollar tax program still awaiting action in the House. Three taxes were put to the test and defeated by a combination of solid Republican opposition and defection of some Democrats.

The taxes would have raised about half the pending revenue.

The Republican position repeatedly has been that no new taxes should be passed until the governor's $1,872,000,000 budget is thoroughly studied and an exact figure agreed.

Expect Reports

Reports on the budget are expected next week from the House and Senate committees which have been studying it.

Asked about the relative lack of major legislation approved during six months of the current session, Andrews said he views the start of the Lawrence administration as "a standby period, a period during which readjustments are being made in the Commonwealth's fiscal situation."

"We are striving to wipe out the deficit. We have been pursued by deficits for 20 years."

"The milestone around our necks was the 177 million dollar deficit originally estimated."

"Too Many Befuddled"

"If we had the amount of the deficit now to deal with the needs of the Commonwealth we could go a long way."

"However, the groundwork has been laid, through committee action for a legislative program adequate to the actual pressing needs, with the exception of the school (financing) problem."

The long-time observer of Capitol and legislative affairs added: "There are too many befuddled 'mad hatters' on both sides of the aisle. A lot of legislators are not working on a legislative program that we need but on a legislative program that is most likely to help their re-election."

TWO GUILTY IN MURDER OF LANDLADY

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Gaither E. Crist, 21, of Chambersburg, Pa., has been convicted of first degree murder for the slaying of his landlady and sentenced to life imprisonment. A companion was sentenced to death.

A Wyandotte County Court jury Wednesday convicted Crist and Bobby Joe Spencer, 21, of Kansas City, Kan., for the murder of Mrs. Rubie Blanton last February.

Spencer, who signed a confession that he hit the 59-year-old widow and later slit her throat, got the death sentence.

Crist, police said, admitted that he robbed the woman and helped place her body in the basement of her home. He and Spencer were arrested in New Orleans a week later.

Both men were visibly shaken when the jury returned the verdict after deliberating two hours Tuesday and an hour yesterday.

Crist placed his head in his hands and sobbed. The jury directed that "he should be punished by confinement and hard labor in the penitentiary of the state of Kansas."

Spencer's head fell back as his verdict was read. Then he leaned forward, covered his face with his right arm and grabbed the chair with his left hand.

The state had sought the death penalty for both defendants.

Meanwhile, a defense attorney informed Judge William H. McHale that he would file a motion for a new trial in behalf of both defendants. Judge McHale fixed June 15 as the deadline for filing the motion and said he would hear it June 22.

Judge McHale complimented the jurors, saying they had tried the case well.

Says Broken Bolt Cost Him Victory

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Johnny Thomson said today a piece of equipment worth less than 50 cents cost him his chance of winning the Indianapolis 500 mile championship.

The Boyertown, Pa., racer said that an adjustment bolt on the torsion bar of his car broke off and he was unable to shift the weight of his vehicle after that.

As a result, he said, he was forced to lower his top speed from 145 miles to 142 miles an hour. Thomson finished third behind Roger Ward by 41 seconds. He said that in addition to the time loss on the track he also was forced to make a pit stop because of extra wear on his right rear tire, resulting from the bolt break-off. Thomson figures that cost him 26 seconds.

It was Thomas Jefferson who said: "Were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government with newspapers, or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."

'Steverino' Changes Name To 'Lady Greyhound' On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — The problem of having a live animal symbol for a company which uses TV for advertising is well illustrated by the current career of a docile, affectionate young greyhound registered a couple of years ago with the National Coursing Assn. under the name of Steverino.

Steverino's television debut occurred during the commercial on a Steve Allen show two seasons back. Since then the animal has been used extensively in all sorts of promotion devices for the sponsor, a bus company. Last March, however, the company pulled out of the Allen show, and is currently sponsoring special shows — the most recent a Jack Benny hour show on another network.

When it departed from the Allen show, the sponsor asked permission to let Steverino keep the name. It was promptly refused on the ground the name was so closely associated with the Allen show that it would almost constitute endorsement. That was the reason why a lot of its viewers were confused during the Benny show commercials when a quiet-mannered and bored animal was enthusiastically named Lady Greyhound. What happened to Steverino?

"Nee Steverino!" The answer, of course, is nothing — professionally. Lady is Steverino. Lady in private life is still called Stevo by her co-owners, Lorraine and Bernard D'Essen, heads of a New York animal casting service who raised her, trained her and share their home with her. Personally, if that's the word, Stevo is on the verge of motherhood, a condition which was not permitted during the days when she had to work on a weekly show.

Meanwhile, something had to be done about Stevo's name: she is being re-registered with the National Coursing Assn. as "Lady Greyhound, nee Steverino."

When not working, Stevo cavorts around the D'Essen house like any other housepet. She lives with a pet llama, a kangaroo, a Siamese cat and her best friend, a Great Dane named Debbie.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Betsy Rawls went after her sixth tournament victory of the year today. The 31-year-old star was favored over a field of 25 other women pros in the second annual American Women's Open Tournament at Brookfield Course.

IKE SAYS MD'S MUST RESTRAIN RISING COSTS

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, making a 1959 crusade against inflation, this week stuck a needle in the nation's doctors.

He told them in effect medical services should be kept within reason.

The government's figures show that living costs in general have gone up 108.6 per cent since 1939. Which means: What you could buy for $1 in 1939 would cost you $2.06 today.

In that same time 20-year period the rise in hospital costs eclipsed almost everything else in the various categories which make up the government's total picture of living costs. They went up around 300 per cent.

In those 20 years doctors' fees have climbed 84 per cent. Some of the items in other categories were much higher — in their rise — than doctors' fees, some were lower.

Eisenhower, using his speech to the American Medical Assn. convention in Atlantic City Tuesday night to support the practice of private medicine as against a government medical care program, told the doctors:

Advice To Profession
"The medical profession, as much as any other, has a vital interest in preventing inflation. Certainly it wants to provide its services for a fee within range of what people can reasonably pay."

"If the time ever comes when large numbers of our citizens turn primarily to the government for assistance in what ought to remain a private arrangement between doctor and patient, then we shall all have suffered a great loss."

Although in the 20 years since 1939 the government's broad category of "medical care" rose just a little less than the general cost of living — 106.1 per cent as compared with 108.6 per cent — there is a big variation in the cost of the items which go into that category.

Have Good Leads In Man's Murder

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J. (AP)—Burlington County's prosecutor Martin J. Queenan thinks Frank Egner was murdered.

He told newsmen after a conference with detectives Wednesday "we have very good leads we will follow out."

Egner, 41, of Maple Shade, was found dead in his car April 13 with two bullet wounds in his head. No gun was found.

G. Clinton Zeller, chief of county detectives, said he believed Egner had been murdered. State police weren't as certain.

Queenan would not say what the new lead was.

Theodore Wurster of Georgetown, a friend of the Egner family, is free in $5,000 bail in the case as a material witness.

MISSILE HITS TARGET 5,500 MILES DISTANT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A powerful Thor-Able missile hurled a highly-advanced nose cone 5,500 miles over the Atlantic today, dropping it in the Atlantic near Ascension Island.

Recovery ships and planes began an immediate search for the tiny cone.

The fiery Thor-Able rocket shot from the Cape at 1:44 a.m. EST. More than two hours later the Air Force announced that "preliminary instrumentation data indicates the re-entry test vehicle achieved most of the test objectives. It impacted the nose cone in the South Atlantic ocean near Ascension Island."

Takes 30 Minutes
The nose cone covered the distance to the impact area in about 30 minutes.

A parachute popped out automatically to ease the package to the water after its blazing re-entry into the earth's atmosphere.

If all went right, the cone would remain suspended under a floating balloon while a small radio transmitter, signal lights and a dye marker pinpointed the location.

Similar recovery tests were successful at the last two Thor-Able shots—on April 8 and May 21.

The Air Force said the purpose of the Thor-Able test is to develop a cone capable of carrying a nuclear warhead for intercontinental range ballistic missiles of the future.

Living Cost Score
Here are some other examples of how living costs have risen in the 20 years since 1939:

In that period food costs — as a whole — have zoomed up 149.7 per cent, the biggest single jump in all the major categories which make up the government's living cost index.

The cost of housing has gone up 69.1 per cent, and this figure includes house purchase, interest, taxes, insurance and upkeep; rent, up 60.9 per cent; gas and electricity, 12.7 per cent; solid fuels and oil, 145.9 per cent; house furnishings, 94.4 per cent.

Here are some other 20-year increases in various things people pay for under the head of living costs:

New cars went up around 125 per cent; men's haircuts, 206 per cent; gasoline, 99 per cent; household appliances, 33 per cent; newspapers, 124 per cent; and movie admissions, 120 per cent.

Watershed Display At Local Bank

How to make running water walk is demonstrated by this model of a miniature watershed which gives a bird's eye view of a small watershed, like the Rock Creek watershed just east of Gettysburg. Built by the Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co., of Milwaukee, the scale model is on display at the Gettysburg National Bank. It will remain at the bank through Saturday.

Representing a small watershed about two square miles in area, the display illustrates what can be done in the way of soil and water conservation under the U.S. Department of Agriculture's "Small Watershed" program for upstream water conservation and flood prevention.

Here a USDA soil conservation service technician points out key aspects of the model to a farm boy and a banker. His pointer indicates a drop inlet dam in which the water flow is metered through a pipe at a rate which streams below can handle without flooding.

Other phases of the program include contour farming, terracing and strip cropping, fenced woodlot areas, grassed waterways, farm ponds and headwater flood prevention practices. Such soil and water conservation practices will stop erosion which has made nearly 282 million acres of U.S. land unfit for farming and has brought another 775 million acres near the danger point.

38-YEAR-OLD MOTHER GETS LAW DEGREE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—In 1943 Mrs. Deborah Augenblick married a lawyer and the next year she started law school. Today she graduates from Temple University.

How does the 38-year-old housewife feel now that the long, long grind is over?

"Tired," she laughed.

It was a grind that began while her husband, Robert was in the Army. She wanted to familiarize herself with his profession so she enrolled in Columbia Law School.

She completed a year and a half of the three year course. Then Mark was born, and every two years there was another child until there were four.

"My family came first," she explained, "but when the children grew older and Mark (now 13) learned how to babysit and take the cardboard off the frozen food dinners before putting them in the oven, I decided to finish some unfinished business."

"Good Insurance Policy"

That was in 1957, and it wasn't easy. She had to arrange her classes to coincide with her children's school day. And she had to commute from her home in suburban New Hope, Bucks County, to Philadelphia.

Now that she's done, she isn't sure what to do with the degree, although she's thinking of legal aid work.

There's no plans to join her husband's office in New York. Legal aid work, Mrs. Augenblick feels, would tie in nicely with her experience as a social worker. That was between graduation from Barnard College in New York and marriage.

"One way or another," she said, "my family is proud of me and a law degree is a good insurance policy."

Rocky Colavito Clouts 4 Homers

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rocky Colavito made believers out of the Orioles fans — even the hecklers. The Cleveland outfielder was given a rousing cheer when he took his right field position in the ninth inning Wednesday night after hitting his fourth consecutive home run to tie a major league record.

The 25-year-old slugger had been booed earlier in the game by rabid Baltimore fans and one heckler tossed beer on Rocky as he chased down a fly ball hit by Billy Klaus in the second inning.

Colavito said he was "pretty mad" after the beer thrower scored a bullseye.

"But when I took the field in the ninth," Rocky said, "I looked over and there was the same guy waving at me."

PRASSE ASKS ONE AGENCY ON JUVENILES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's commissioner of corrections thinks the administration of correctional institutions for juveniles and adults should be handled by one state agency.

Arthur T. Prasse stated his views Wednesday at a legislative hearing. During his testimony there was a hassle between two members of the five-man Senate committee investigating the massive Public Welfare Department.

"It doesn't make any difference whether juveniles are handled in the Department of Welfare or the Bureau of Corrections or in any other department if you have a program set up to take care of them," Prasse insisted.

Senatorial Hassle
The committee called him too testify on the proposed transfer of the Pennsylvania Training School at Morgantown from Welfare control to the Corrections Bureau.

The hassle started after Sen. Fred B. Rooney (D-Northampton) questioned Prasse on the difference of costs per inmate in operating Morgantown and White Hill, near Harrisburg, an institution under Prasse's supervision.

Chairman Albert R. Pechan (R-Armstrong) told Prasse the question was an unfair one and said he didn't have to answer.

Rising to his feet, Rooney protested loudly:

"Everytime I ask a question at this investigation it's not a fair question."

Prasse said he couldn't compare the costs because he was authorized to speak only for the Bureau of Corrections and not for the welfare agency which operates Morgantown.

The Morgantown transfer was criticized by Common Pleas Judge Chauncey M. Deputy of Franklin County who said it would make Pennsylvania "the laughing stock" of the other states.

"You're transferring the juvenile"

Hofstra College Wins Golf Crown

HUNTINGDON, Pa. (AP)—Hofstra College's four-man team won the first annual NCAA Atlantic Coast Region Golf Championship at Mount Union Country Club Wednesday.

The Long Island squad had an aggregate score of 963 for the 54-hole, two-day tourney. The University of Baltimore, with 975, finished second. Wesleyan of Connecticut was third with 998.

Jey Gettig of Juniata College won medalist honors with a 224, besting another Juniata entry, Jack Vernoy, who had a 228.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee has approved a $150,000 request for research and development of coal as a roadbuilding material and other uses.

The measure was sent to the floor Wednesday for further action.

It is the bill about which Gov. Lawrence expressed doubt at a news conference Tuesday.

He said such a step might lead to further demands from other industries for state-financed research, adding, however, "it is our strong desire . . . to do anything we can to recapture some of the value of the coal industry in Pennsylvania to the state's economy."

Lawrence promised that the bill will be thoroughly studied in the executive department before any final action is taken in it.

under this proposal, to the old prison system—the very place every other state is trying to get them out of," Deputy told the committee.

He said the matter should be studied first by experts before any final decision is made.

RESEARCHER IS SET ON BORING DEEPEST HOLE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A Navy research scientist wants to dig the deepest hole ever dug. Where? He doesn't know. He is looking for an easy way through the earth's crust.

Dr. Gordon G. Lill, head of the geophysics branch of the Office of Naval Research, says a lot of scientists are excited about the hole he wants to drill, perhaps 6 miles deep.

Lill's project is known as the Moho Project. Simply explained, he wants to drill as deep into the earth as possible for samples of natural history not now available. Lill is among scientists attending the "Undiscovered Earth" conference of the Southern Research Institute.

Costly Project
The Moho Project will cost between 10 and 15 million dollars.

Lill wants a sample of 1,000 feet of mantle beneath the earth's crust. He believes this will answer many questions of the earth's origin.

For instance:

Have the oceans always existed?

Are the continents actually floating or shifting?

Says Broken Bolt Cost Him Victory

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Johnny Thomson said today a piece of equipment worth less than 50 cents cost him his chance of winning the Indianapolis 500 mile championship.

The Boyertown, Pa., racer said that an adjustment bolt on the torsion bar of his car broke off and he was unable to shift the weight of his vehicle after that. As a result, he said, he was forced to lower his top speed from 145 miles to 142 miles an hour.

Thomson finished third behind Roger Ward by 41 seconds. He said that in addition to the time loss on the track he also was forced to make a pit stop because of extra wear on his right rear tire, resulting from the bolt break-off. Thomson figures that cost him 26 seconds.

It was Thomas Jefferson who said: "Were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government with newspapers, or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."

'Steeverino' Changes Name To 'Lady Greyhound' On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — The problem of having a live animal symbol for a company which uses TV for advertising is well illustrated by the current career of a docile, affectionate young greyhound registered a couple of years ago with the National Coursing Assn. under the name of Steeverino.

Steeverino's television debut occurred during the commercial on a Steve Allen show two seasons back. Since then the animal has been used extensively in all sorts of promotion devices for the sponsor, a bus company. Last March, however, the company pulled out of the Allen show, and is currently sponsoring special shows — the most recent a Jack Benny hour show on another network.

When it departed from the Allen show, the sponsor asked permission to let Steeverino keep the name. It was promptly refused on the ground the name was so closely associated with the Allen show that it would almost constitute endorsement. That was the reason why a lot of us viewers were confused during the Benny show commercials when a quiet-mannered and bored animal was enthusiastically named Lady Greyhound. What happened to Steeverino?

"Nee Steeverino!" The answer, of course, is nothing — professionally. Lady is Steeverino. Lady in private life is still called Stevo by her co-owners, Lorraine and Bernard D'Essen, heads of a New York animal casting service who raised her, trained her and share their home with her. Personally, if that's the word, Stevo is on the verge of motherhood, a condition which was not permitted during the days when she had to work on a weekly show.

Meanwhile, something had to be done about Stevo's name: she is being re-registered with the National Coursing Assn. as "Lady Greyhound, nee Steeverino."

When not working, Stevo cavorts around the D'Essen house like any other housepet. She lives with a pet llama, a kangaroo, a Siamese cat and her best friend, a Great Dane named Debbie.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Betsy Rawls went after her sixth tournament victory of the year today. The 31-year-old star was favored over a field of 25 other women pros in the second annual American Women's Open Tournament at Brookfield Course.

Have Good Leads In Man's Murder

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J. (AP) — Burlington County's prosecutor Martin J. Queenan thinks Frank Egner was murdered.

He told newsmen after a conference with detectives Wednesday "we have very good leads we will follow out."

Egner, 41, of Maple Shade, was found dead in his car April 13 with two bullet wounds in his head. No gun was found.

G. Clinton Zeller, chief of county detectives, said he believed Egner had been murdered. State police weren't so certain.

Queenan would not say what the new lead was.

Theodore Wurster of Georgetown, a friend of the Egner family, is free in $5,000 bail in the case as a material witness.

MISSILE HITS TARGET 5,500 MILES DISTANT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A powerful Thor-Able missile hurled a highly-advanced nose cone 5,500 miles over the Atlantic today, dropping it in the Atlantic near Ascension Island.

Recovery ships and planes began an immediate search for the tiny cone.

The fiery Thor-Able rocket shot from the Cape at 1:44 a.m. EST. More than two hours later the Air Force announced that "preliminary instrumentation data indicates the re-entry test vehicle achieved most of the test objectives. It impacted the nose cone in the South Atlantic ocean near Ascension Island."

Takes 30 Minutes The nose cone covered the distance to the impact area in about 30 minutes.

A parachute popped out automatically to ease the package to the water after its blazing re-entry into the earth's atmosphere.

If all went right, the cone would remain suspended under a floating balloon while a small radio transmitter, signal lights and a dye marker pinpointed the location.

Similar recovery tests were successful at the last two Thor-Able shots — on April 8 and May 21.

The Air Force said the purpose of the Thor-Able test is to develop a cone capable of carrying a nuclear warhead for intercontinental range ballistic missiles of the future.

Living Cost Score Here are some other examples of how living costs have risen in the 20 years since 1939:

In that period food costs — as a whole — have zoomed up 149.7 per cent, the biggest single jump in all the major categories which make up the government's living cost index.

The cost of housing has gone up 69.1 per cent, and this figure includes house purchase, interest, taxes, insurance and upkeep; rent, up 60.9 per cent; gas and electricity, 12.7 per cent; solid fuels and oil, 145.9 per cent; house furnishings, 94.4 per cent.

Here are some other 20-year increases in various things people pay for under the head of living costs:

New cars went up around 125 per cent; men's haircuts, 206 per cent; gasoline, 99 per cent; household appliances, 33 per cent; newspapers, 124 per cent; and movie admissions, 120 per cent.

Watershed Display At Local Bank

How to make running water walk is demonstrated by this model of a miniature watershed which gives a bird's eye view of a small watershed, like the Rock Creek watershed just east of Gettysburg. Built by the Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co., of Milwaukee, the scale model is on display at the Gettysburg National Bank. It will remain at the bank through Saturday.

Representing a small watershed about two square miles in area, the display illustrates what can be done in the way of soil and water conservation under the U.S. Department of Agriculture's "Small Watershed" program for upstream water conservation and flood prevention.

Here a USDA soil conservation service technician points out key aspects of the model to a farm boy and a banker. His pointer indicates a drop inlet dam in which the water flow is metered through a pipe at a rate which streams below can handle without flooding.

Other phases of the program include contour farming, terracing and strip cropping, fenced wood-land areas, grassed waterways, farm ponds and headwater flood prevention practices. Such soil and water conservation practices will stop erosion which has made nearly 282 million acres of U.S. land unfit for farming and has brought another 775 million acres near the danger point.

38-YEAR-OLD MOTHER GETS LAW DEGREE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — In 1943 Mrs. Deborah Augenblick married a lawyer and the next year she started law school. Today she graduates from Temple University.

How does the 38-year-old housewife feel now that the long, long grind is over?

"Tired," she laughed.

It was a grind that began while her husband, Robert was in the Army. She wanted to familiarize herself with his profession so she enrolled in Columbia Law School.

She completed a year and a half of the three year course. Then Mark was born, and every two years there was another child until there were four.

"My family came first," she explained, "but when the children grew older and Mark (now 13) learned how to babysit and take the cardboard off the frozen food dinners before putting them in the oven, I decided to finish some unfinished business."

"Good Insurance Policy"

That was in 1957, and it wasn't easy. She had to arrange her classes to coincide with her children's school day. And she had to commute from her home in suburban New Hope, Bucks County, to Philadelphia.

Now that she's done, she isn't sure what to do with the degree, although she's thinking of legal aid work.

There's no plans to join her husband's office in New York.

Legal aid work, Mrs. Augenblick feels, would tie in nicely with her experience as a social worker. That was between graduation from Barnard College in New York and marriage.

"One way or another," she said, "my family is proud of me and a law degree is a good insurance policy."

Rocky Colavito Clouts 4 Homers

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rocky Colavito made believers out of the Orioles fans — even the hecklers. The Cleveland outfielder was given a rousing cheer when he took his right field position in the ninth inning Wednesday night after hitting his fourth consecutive home run to tie a major league record.

The 25-year-old slugger had been booed earlier in the game by rabid Baltimore fans and one heckler tossed beer on Rocky as he chased down a fly ball hit by Billy Klaus in the second inning.

Colavito said he was "pretty mad" after the beer thrower scored a bullseye.

"But when I took the field in the ninth," Rocky said, "I looked over and there was the same guy waving at me."

PRASSE ASKS ONE AGENCY ON JUVENILES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's commissioner of corrections thinks the administration of correctional institutions for juveniles and adults should be handled by one state agency.

Arthur T. Prasse stated his views Wednesday at a legislative hearing. During his testimony there was a hassle between two members of the five-man Senate committee investigating the massive Public Welfare Department.

"It doesn't make any difference whether juveniles are handled in the Department of Welfare or the Bureau of Corrections in the Justice Department or in any other department if you have a program set up to take care of them," Prasse insisted.

Senatorial Hassle The Morganza transfer was criticized by Common Pleas Judge Chauncey M. Deputy of Franklin County who said it would make Pennsylvania "the laughing stock" of the other states.

"You're transferring the juve-

Hofstra College Wins Golf Crown

HUNTINGDON, Pa. (AP) — Hofstra College's four-man team won the first annual NCAA Atlantic Coast Region Golf Championship at Mount Union Country Club Wednesday.

The Long Island squad had an aggregate score of 963 for the 54-hole, two-day tourney. The University of Baltimore, with 975, finished second. Wesleyan of Connecticut was third with 998.

Jey Gettig of Juniata College won medalist honors with a 224, besting another Juniata entry, Jack Vernocy, who had a 228.

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee has approved a $150,000 request for research and development of coal as a roadbuilding material and other uses.

The measure was sent to the floor Wednesday for further action.

It is the bill about which Gov. Lawrence expressed doubt at a news conference Tuesday.

He said such a step might lead to further demands from other industries for state-financed research, adding, however, "it is our strong desire . . . to do anything we can to recapture some of the value of the coal industry in Pennsylvania to the state's economy."

Lawrence promised that the bill will be thoroughly studied in the executive department before any final action is taken in it.

niles, under this proposal, to the old prison system—the very place every other state is trying to get them out of," Deputy told the committee.

He said the matter should be studied first by experts before any final decision is made.

RESEARCHER IS SET ON BORING DEEPEST HOLE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A Navy research scientist wants to dig the deepest hole ever dug. Where? He doesn't know. He is looking for an easy way through the earth's crust.

Dr. Gordon G. Lill, head of the geophysics branch of the Office of Naval Research, says a lot of scientists are excited about the hole he wants to drill, perhaps 6 miles deep.

Lill's project is known as the Mohoe Project. Simply explained, he wants to drill as deep into the earth as possible for samples of natural history not now available. Lill is among scientists attending the "Undiscovered Earth" conference of the Southern Research Institute.

Costly Project The Mohoe Project will cost between 10 and 15 million dollars. Lill wants a sample of 1,000 feet of mantle beneath the earth's crust. He believes this will answer many questions of the earth's origin.

For instance: Have the oceans always existed? Are the continents actually floating or shifting?

ADENAUER AND LUDWIG ERHARD FACE BIG TEST

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD
BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Vice Chancellor Ludwig Erhard today faced the first test of their patched-up alliance—a critical onslaught from the opposition parties in Parliament.

The Socialists and Free Democrats planned to exploit the ruling Christian Democrats' bitter party squabble during debate in the Bundestag on the federal budget.

With Adenauer's majority party once more united, there was no chance of the opposition attracting enough votes to overthrow the government on a vote of confidence.

Propaganda Record

Instead the Socialists and Free Democrats planned to build up a propaganda record for the 1961 election campaign by criticizing the Christian Democratic split resulting from Adenauer's decision to continue as chancellor and not step up to the West German presidency.

Adenauer's official explanation was that a worsening international situation required him to continue at the helm. But privately he was highly critical of Erhard.

Returning from a visit to Washington, Erhard said he would challenge Adenauer's decision and his criticism. The split was patched up Wednesday—at least on the surface.

OUSTED PASTOR IS STRICKEN

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—A Presbyterian minister dismissed from his pulpit in a dispute having racial overtones is in serious condition today with a heart attack.

Doctors said the Rev. Robert B. McNeill suffered the attack Wednesday night as the result of "the pressure of the past few days."

The 44-year-old minister was dismissed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church here Sunday after months of dissension within the church.

The unrest began shortly after McNeill wrote an article for a magazine in which he advocated a "creative contact between leaders of both races" to ease the South's racial tensions.

Sunday, a judicial commission of the Southwest Georgia Presbytery removed McNeill as pastor.

The head of the commission, the Rev. Frank King of Valdosta, said the racial issue "has merely been used to trigger the explosion," and was not the major problem in the Columbus church.

"The present difficulty is deep and involved and has a history of several years standing," he said.

POLICE RAID HOTEL SUITE

NEW YORK (AP)—A $76-a-day suite in Manhattan's well-known New Yorker Hotel was raided by detectives Wednesday night.

Officers said they found 45 men, laden with $50,000 to $70,000, busily engaged at dice tables; four "hostesses," who later were charged with loitering for prostitution; two bartenders providing refreshments for the guests, and the hotel detective, Samuel Cohen, acting as a lookout.

After the raid, made as the result of a tip, the 45 gamblers were booked on disorderly conduct charges. The hotel detective was named in a gambling count.

Police said they also confiscated seven pairs of crooked dice; gambling chips worth $5 to $500; and a burglar's kit which some of the raiders broke in.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

The Faith Americans Live By

In the remote areas of the Ozark mountains, the natural intelligence of many youths would have been lost had not a Presbyterian missionary, with the aid of other churchmen, founded the School of the Ozarks at Point Lookout, Mo., in 1907. Without state or county aid, it grew from one building to 90, through mailed gifts and the faith of leaders who guided it through a threatened foreclosure, destruction by fire and other trials. It has been called "the school that lives on faith."

Students are not admitted if they can afford tuition elsewhere. Those with the highest intelligence, those from the remote regions, are selected to attend the high school and junior college.

"We believe if we work for what we get, the Lord will take care of the details," says R. M. Good, the school's president emeritus.

Breakfast begins with a religious lesson. Students cook, serve, work in the laundry, weaving room, cannery, power plant. They man their fire department and tend a world famous dairy herd. They have helped in the construction of all buildings. They made the furniture for the new chapel and worked in the school quarry. The first graduate is today a judge. Instead of youth being lost in the hills, leaders have emerged who have taken prominent places in America or returned to better their communities. The faith of the founders has been rewarded.

Air Force Academy Romance Ends In Girl's Highway Death

DURANGO, Colo. (AP)—The teen-age wife of a member of the first graduating class at the Air Force Academy was killed Wednesday in a car accident near this southwestern Colorado city.

Barbara Ann Barnwell, 18, of Denver, was dead when officers arrived. Driver of the auto was her husband, Lt. Lee Barnwell, 23, of Greenville, S.C. Their sports car struck a culvert and overturned.

Patrolman Herbert Luoma said Barbara was dead when he arrived at the scene. Passers-by were tending to her husband.

Unaware Of Wife's Death

"I'm O.K.," he told the officer. "Take care of my wife."

"She's in good hands," Luoma replied.

Barnwell didn't learn until several hours later, in Mercy Hospital here, that his bride of six days died in the crash.

Had Been Disciplined

For four months before Barnwell's graduation, he had been confined to the academy grounds near Colorado Springs for breaking regulations on operating a personal car.

Barnwell was punished for driving a personal auto to Denver in order to see his fiancée after a minor operation.

The operation was shortly after they had met in the academy chapel.

Love At First Sight

"He took pity on a little girl with a broken foot," Barbara said last week. "I never believed in love at first sight until then, but I do now."

She suffered the fractured foot in a skiing accident. The operation was to correct the injury.

Her fiancé was at her side as she came out from under the anesthetic. He did not tell her he had broken academy rules about driving a car so he could be with her when she needed him.

Married Following Graduation

He didn't see her again until graduation day. They were married the next day in Denver.

"I would stand on a hill and wave my handkerchief at him," Barbara said on the eve of the wedding. "He used a pair of binoculars to see me. Those were our dates."

Barbara took hope in April that King Hussein of Jordan would grant amnesty to Barnwell and other errant cadets upon the King's scheduled academy visit. Monarchs traditionally have that privilege when visiting U.S. service academies. But a snowstorm caused the monarch to bypass the academy.

The bride-to-be wired Hussein Chicago, explaining her plight. He expressed sympathy for the young couple's cause, but was unable to return.

3 CHILDREN DIE IN CAMP BURNER

RAY, N.D. (AP)—Three children burned to death Wednesday in a trailer camp refuse burner into which they apparently crawled while at play.

The victims were Rodney Brenden, 5; his sister, Debra, 3; and Larry Dean Slater, 5.

Sheriff Leroy Lutz said investigation indicated either that the youngsters had set a fire in the metal cylinder with matches or that dying embers started the fatal blaze.

The children were missed about 10:30 a.m. and found about an hour later.

The incinerator, made of an old steam engine boiler, is about 12 feet high and three feet in diameter. A door opens into one side.

The burner is about a half block from the nearest trailer. It was a windy day, Lutz said, and cries couldn't have been heard. Parents of the dead children live in the trailer court.

MONTREAL (AP)—The Boston Bruins picked up three players in the National Hockey League draft Wednesday night, then dropped Harry LUMLEY, Boston drafted goalie Bruce Gamble from the New York Ranger farm system, defenseman Autry Erickson from Chicago and forward Charlie Bruns from Detroit.

STEEL OFFER IS REJECTED BY UNIONISTS

NEW YORK (AP) — The steel industry has made an overture—quickly rejected by the union—that the industry drop its insistence on a one-year wage freeze if the union would make specific concessions on other contract terms.

That leaves the United Steelworkers of America and the industry still deadlocked less than three weeks from a strike deadline.

The industry proposed eight contract changes which it said would increase efficiency and reduce waste.

"Economic Progress"

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator and executive vice president of the U. S. Steel Corp., said union acceptance of the proposals would "generate new economic progress which could be shared by the employees, the stockholders and the public."

Immediately after industry negotiators made the proposal Wednesday, USW President David J. McDonald turned it down and called it "industrial blackmail."

"If industry continues to insist upon this ill-conceived program," McDonald told newsmen, "such insistence can have but one purpose. That purpose is plain. For reasons of their own, the leaders of the industry want to force a shutdown in steel."

The three-year contract in the industry expires June 30. If no agreement on a new contract is reached by then, 500,000 union members will almost certainly strike in plants that produce 90 per cent of the nation's steel.

Contract negotiations, which have been held on and off since May 5, continue here today.

The union is demanding a substantial, but unspecified, wage increase; a cut in the 40-hour work week; and other benefits. Current basic wages average $3.03 an hour.

DAD'S APPEAL BRINGS GIRL BACK TO FAMILY

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — "Everyone has been so wonderful," the wildly happy mother sobbed. "We just can't thank them enough."

Her 19-year-old daughter, Linda Millar, was returning home after a 10-day disappearance climaxed by her father's written appeal to return, distributed to newspapers, radio and TV.

Her parents are mystery writers Kenneth and Margaret Millar. She is the couple's only child. The tall, dark-haired girl is an honor student at the University of California.

Has Guilt Complex

A psychiatrist who treated her recently said Linda is haunted by a feeling of guilt—she has been on probation since she killed an 11-year-old boy with her car three years ago.

Armand Girola, a private detective hired by the family, said the girl spent 10 days wandering aimlessly around Reno and northern California gambling resorts. She "just wasn't herself," he added.

He said the girl read the father's appeal and telephoned her mother. The father contacted Girola, who picked up the girl in Reno Tuesday night.

Girola said she was alone, and was overwrought with fears about repercussions at school and at home.

COURT SEALS JURY REPORT ON QUIZ FIX

NEW YORK (AP)—A General Sessions Court has ordered sealed the presentation of a grand jury after nearly nine months of inquiry into television quiz shows.

Judge Mitchell D. Schweitzer Wednesday sealed and impounded the report handed up to him by the jury foreman, Louis M. Hacker.

Schweitzer's only explanation was that his right to accept it had been challenged. He declined, however, to say who the challenging party was.

Foreman's Statement

Hacker, former dean of the school of general studies at Columbia University, told Schweitzer in a prepared statement: "We have written a report on a matter that has attracted universal attention. At the same time it is affected with a large public interest."

"This is true for two reasons: First, charges of manipulation of quiz programs have been made, in the course of which large sums as prizes were received by those who participated in these frauds. Obviously, moral questions affecting society, if not legal ones, are involved here."

Face Whole Nation

"Secondly, we have been mindful of that fact that we are facing the whole nation and not only the people of the county of New York because the quiz programs that have originated here have had a national audience."

Judge Schweitzer, after his sealing order, gave the district attorney's office and other interested parties until June 26 to present arguments on why the report should be accepted. He refused to discuss the matter with newsmen.

No indication was given of what shows might have been involved in the presentation.

The grand jury inquiry resulted after contestants who appeared on "Dotto," "21," and "The $64,000 Challenge" had charged irregularities on the shows. "Dotto" was dropped by both CBS and NBC last fall. Subsequently "21" and "The $64,000 Challenge" left the air.

FAMED PRIEST DIES IN CRASH

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The crash of a plane flown by an internationally-known Catholic priest killed him and three members of a Dallas family Wednesday.

The victims: Father Ralph J. Diefenbach, 45; Ray J. Lockwood, 45; his wife, Katherine, 42; and their daughter, Patricia, 11.

Father Diefenbach was a chaplain with the late Gen. George Patton's Third Army in World War II. In 1945, the priest was assigned to return a religious relic, the hand of St. Stephen, to Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty in Hungary. The hand, removed from the royal palace during the war, was found by U.S. soldiers in a warehouse near Salzburg, Austria.

The priest's four-seater plane crashed shortly after taking off from a small airport.

The Lockwoods were flying with him to Galveston for a visit with a relative.

Wichita Teachers To Get Playground

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Wichita school teachers are going to have their own playground.

They have paid $70,000 for a nearby farm on which they are going to have fishing, boating, skeet shooting, a golf course, baseball diamonds and saddle horses. It's a project of a voluntary teachers' organization called Recreational Area For Teachers. Gerald Klepinger, RAFT president, says there are 900 members and nominal dues.

A man has tact who won't change his mind but will change the subject.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

NEW COLLEGES ARE URGED BY PA. GOVERNOR

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Gov. Lawrence today linked education and industrial development in asking support of legislation to establish a system of community colleges in Pennsylvania.

In an address prepared for Temple University's graduation exercises, Lawrence said:

"Industry—in coming to Pennsylvania—is considering, along with labor supply, water power and closeness to market, one other matter—how much education is provided for the families of its employees, and what the calibre of that education means to the future progress of the firm."

Colleges In Evening
He asked for support of two administration proposals before the Legislature to create a state council of higher education and to establish the network of community colleges.

The council would operate the community college system in co-operation with local school districts.

"Many high schools in this Commonwealth can become community colleges in the evening," said Lawrence. "I have often personally fretted, as have many educators, that these high school plants are in use only seven hours each day."

Asks For Million
Lawrence asked the legislature to appropriate one million dollars for the program.

However, he noted today that "the responsible committee (studying the bill) in the Legislature feels that it (the program) could begin with an appropriation of $300,000."

Lawrence said the plan "can be one of the most dynamic contributions that Pennsylvania has ever made to the education of its citizens."

PLAN 3 PROBES OF HOODLUMS IN BOXING FIELD

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Boxing figures appear before the federal grand jury in Los Angeles on June 23 as part of a three-pronged investigation of hoodlum influence in the sport.

In rapid-fire developments Wednesday, the California Athletic Commission (1) heard a manager's report that he and heavyweight Reuben Vargas had been threatened with death, and (2) suspended the licenses of Manager Sam Boardman and his boxing son, Larry.

Sticks To Story
At Los Angeles, Police Chief William H. Parker reported boxing promoter Jackie Leonard wasn't slugged by hoodlums on June 3 but had blacked out in a fall.

But Leonard is standing by his story that he was hit.

"It's the only thing I can say," Leonard told newsmen. "In my mind, I was hit from behind as I closed my garage door, and hit again as I was down on my knees."

Last month Leonard told the commission that underworld characters Frank Carbo and Frank (Blinky) Palermo were trying to muscle in on the contract of welterweight champion Don Jordan of Los Angeles.

Local, state and federal agencies are cooperating in investigating the boxing situation.

Bert Brodese of San Francisco, co-manager of Vargas, said a mysterious telephone caller last Feb. 10 said a contract for a return fight with Tony Anthony was being sent and:

"You'd better sign for that rematch or you'll find that bum (Vargas) and you both floating down the East River."

Brodese said he received no such contract.

ILLINOIS' "LITTLE EGYPT" IS IN A SIX-STATE ORB FOR MOTORISTS

(BY EDWARD COLLIER)

Cairo, the Illinois town that, by latitude, is south of Louisville, Kentucky and Richmond, Virginia, is offbeat in its visitor attractions as it is in its intentional Egyptian name.

Snuggled into the "V" of a fertile delta where the mighty Mississippi and Ohio Rivers join, this little southland city of magnolias once was a key point in the Union's Civil War strategy against the Confederacy.

Modern Cairo still shows the influence of Kentucky, just across the river, in its southern architecture, speech and easy tempo of life. Quaint French towns with German immigrant overtones, and strange to the rest of Missouri, are the city's western neighbors. To the north are forest lands, historic Indian mounds, a National Wildlife refuge and high, scenic bluffs that overlook the Father of Waters, first explored by Marquette, Joliet and LaSalle.

The composite provides a varied and engrossing weekend Magic Circle trip from a six-state area, for Cairo is in an orb that also includes Indiana, Tennessee and Arkansas.

Mammoth concrete levees, resembling ramparts, protect the city from the encroaching rivers. Bridges that rise like steeple skeletons across the great waterways bring good highways into "Little Egypt." Cairo's name was chosen by early day settlers who recognized the resemblance of this warm spot to the accounts they had read of the Nile delta in the Land of the Pharaohs.

Fragrant Little Egypt
Almost heart-shaped, this southern bit of Illinois offers a profusion of magnolias, mimosas and tropical flowers. Ante-bellum homes were built in a grand manner during an elegant era. The red brick Alexander County Courthouse is a classic example of this period, its dignity defined with tall white pillars, deeply recessed arched windows, wide steps and an iron balustraded balcony.

Southern colonial showplaces, with ample sweeping verandas, are set in exquisite gardens shaded by red maple, magnolia and rare gingko trees imported from China. Magnolia Manor, restored by the Cairo Historical Association, Illinois' Little Egypt is the six-state hub of a Magic Circle tour: The floral beauty and ante-bellum mansions of Cairo, ancient Indian mounds, orchard and berry country, the Illinois Ozark land of scenic drives and fishing; Carbondale, coal industry center and home of Southern Illinois University; Murphysboro and its apple festival, Chester's historic covered bridge; Kaskaskia Island, where the "Liberty Bell of the West" is enshrined; Ste. Genevieve, Missouri—a bit of old France, the "Ten Mile Rose Garden" road into Cape Girardeau—near here the Trail of Tears State Park is being created to commemorate the tragic trek of the Cherokees from Georgia to Oklahoma.

tion, is graciously trimmed with iron lacework. The Mississippi Parkway Museum (formerly the Dr. Rendleman home) is a large white mansard-roofed mansion. It resembles an old-time steamboat with a saucy picket fence that seems to keep it landlocked.

The Magic Circle out of Cairo leads north (U.S. 51) to Mounds, named for the earthworks of ancient Indians that are found in the vicinity. One that has been carefully excavated and explored shows what these rugged peoples wore and used, because the deer-skin clothes, bows and arrows, ornate pottery, crude beads and stone axes were always buried with the owner.

Motorist Bonanzas

Jonesboro, where Lincoln and Douglas had their third debate, and its twin city, Anna, are in the Illinois Ozarks, a continuation of the Missouri-Arkansas chain. North of these "twin" cities are side-road bonanzas for the automobile adventurer. Pine Hills Skyline Drive, aptly named, offers the panoramic premium of precipitous bluffs and views of the Missouri hills across the river. There is a drop of 500 feet down to the highway (Illinois 3) and Grand Tower, a picturesque village whose main street presides over the Mississippi levee. Tower Rock rises starkly out in the churning river. Protected by the Federal Government, it often is referred to as our smallest national park.

East off U.S. 51, and across The Big Muddy, we took Hickory Road to the "Grand Canyon of Illinois." A short hike from the U.S. Forest Service tower takes you to the enchanting "Hanging Gardens." It's only a stone's throw across the canyon, and yet the fern-covered walls rise 200 feet above the floor. Wild flowers of a hundred varieties grow in every nook. After rains, a waterfall races over rock terraces. Beech, linden, birch and maple trees complete the sylvan picture.

submerged with pink peach blossoms in spring, to Cobden. Seven miles north is another intriguing side trip, this one (through Makanda) to Giant City State Park. As New York's Wall Street is known to resemble a canyon; these perpendicular sandstone formations, stained yellow, brown and red, soar several hundred feet up from the "streets" that separate them.

We continued our detour on to Crab Orchard Lake, an attractive place to play, rest and camp on warm summer days. The National Wildlife Refuge has set aside areas for water sports, fishing and hunting ducks and geese.

The Magic Circle curves west (Illinois 13) to Carbondale, a coal industry center and home of Southern Illinois University. Here the first Memorial Day was observed in 1866. Murphysboro, 16 miles beyond, provides old-fashioned fun in September at the annual Apple Festival with its pie baking contests, beauty queen and a kiddie parade.

Historic Bridge

A delight to photographers and artists is the sturdy covered bridge which has been preserved four miles east of Chester. Legends of murders and stage coach robberies have been built around this 105-year old wooden span, closed to traffic since 1930, and now a favorite spot for a sheltered picnic.

The original town of Kaskaskia, first capital of the state, was destroyed a century ago when the Mississippi changed its course, forming what is today known as Kaskaskia Island—only spot in Illinois west of Ol' Man River. The brick State Memorial Building on the island houses the "Liberty Bell of the West" which changed jubilantly on the night George Rogers Clark took over Fort Kaskaskia from the British in 1778. It was cast in France 11 years before the Philadelphia bell came from the foundry in England.

From Chester the toll bridge takes you across the Mississippi and northwest to Ste. Genevieve, oldest white settlement in Missouri, where time has slowed down to retain its charm. The village and its narrow streets are a bit of old France. Doubourg Place, the public square, is dominated by the Courthouse and the lovely church and its painting brought from France nearly 200 years ago.

Interesting Creole structures open to visitors are the Norman-roofed Peter Bolduc House (circa 1770), an authentic and complete French colonial residence; the stone Indian Trading Post, which holds old copper utensils and other pioneer relics; the Mammy Shaw House, now a restaurant, whose large double doors are supposed to have been relieved from a sunken steamboat; and Price Brick Building, now a tavern.

The Magic Circle doubles back south (U.S. 61). From Jackson to Cape Girardeau the landscaped, rose-festooned roadway is suitably called the "Ten Mile Garden." The Cape Girardeau, another early French settlement, was later governed by the Spanish, then taken over by American families and German immigrants—the latter leaving their stamp on the community with one-and-a-half story houses of stone and red brick built flush with the sidewalks, their starkness relieved by cast-iron balconies.

HAD THE RIGHT NUMBERS

ORLANDO Fla. (AP)—Two winners at the dog races found it easy pickings when it came to the daily double. One selected the last two digits on his gasoline credit card. The other took the last two numbers of his automobile license plate.

Mother Of Five Drowns In Lake

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP)—A Morgantown, W.Va., mother who gave birth to twins and triplets less than a year apart drowned Wednesday when her car plunged into Cheat Lake, about eight miles north of here.

Police theorized the victim, Mrs. Roxanne I. Geller, about 32, was attempting to turn her car around on a narrow road alongside the lake.

The twins were born in 1956; the triplets in 1957.

DIFFERENT TIMETABLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The latest innovation in off-Broadway activity is a checkerboard timetable arranged for a playbill at the Gate theater.

Performances of the show—J. M. Synge's "The Well of the Saints" and Lady Gregory's "The Workhouse Ward"—are being given on Monday nights and at various afternoon hours through the week.

The sponsors explain the purpose of the erratic experiment is double—to make use at off-hours of a theater in which another play ("Heloise") is being performed, and to provide performances at times most convenient for viewing by school

NEW RECTOR AT ST. MARKS

NEW YORK (AP)—The historic, 160-year-old Episcopal parish of St. Mark's Church In-the-Bouwerie, has a new rector—The Rev. Michael Allen, a one-time Look magazine editor who became a priest two years ago.

RED CROSS HAS MEAGER LINK TO RED CHINA

LOWU, New Territories (AP)—A Chinese Communist official and a representative of the American Red Cross meet regularly across a barbed wire barricade on a short wooden bridge at this border station separating Communist China from the British crown colony of Hong Kong.

The meetings, about once a month, provide one of the rare contacts between the United States and Communist China. But their purpose is limited and they do practically nothing to bridge the yawning gap between the two big powers which, diplomatically, do not recognize each other's existence.

The brief meetings—they rarely last more than five minutes—do provide a tenuous contact, however, between the handful of American prisoners and turncoats still in Red China and their families and friends at home.

Breaks News

It is here that the Chinese representative usually breaks the news that another American turncoat wants to go home. And it is here that the American—Red Cross Field Director J. R. Hildebrand who flies over from his base in Manila—delivers Red Cross parcels and other gift packages to five remaining American prisoners in Red China.

Of the original 21 American turncoats from the Korean War

10 have so far crossed the bridge to freedom. One died in China and 10 others are still there.

Hildebrand's visits to the border follow a stereotyped routine. There is no by-play between him and his Red Chinese opposite number. And Hildebrand is always accompanied by a representative of the British Red Cross in Hong Kong.

Lowu is a restricted area. The Hong Kong authorities do not permit casual visitors here. But steady trickles of travellers cross the bridge in each direction.

Between 100 and 200 Chinese residents of Hong Kong, armed with re-entry permits, cross the border to visit relatives in Communist China every day.

Chinese soldiers with tommy-guns at the ready patrol the Communist side of the barbed wire barrier.

COLUMBIA BUYS STAGE HIT
NEW YORK (AP)—The screen rights for "A Raisin in the Sun," current Broadway dramatic hit, have been purchased by Columbia Pictures.

Lorraine Hansberry, the play author, is to do the film script for the producing team of David Susskind and Philip Rose. Sidney Poitier and Claudia McNeil, who play the main roles on stage, are prospects for the film version.

SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED
WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Thirty-five "Martin Luther" scholarships, totaling $43,550, have been granted by the National Lutheran Educational Conference for 1959-60 to graduate students working toward higher degrees and teaching posts at Lutheran schools.

Mrs. Kathrynne Sheehan Hughes, Famous Home Economist, RECOMMENDS WONDER BREAD FOR CHILDREN AND FOR ALL THE FAMILY

Mrs. Kathrynne Sheehan Hughes of Washington, D.C., President, District of Columbia Home Economics Association.

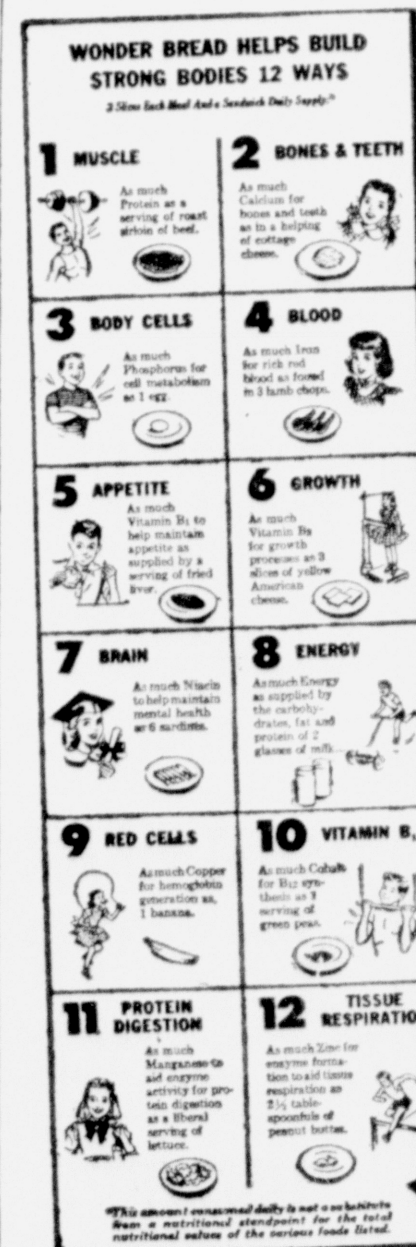

Based On Visits To The Wonder Research Laboratories And Bakeries

"I think everyone should go through the Wonder Research Laboratories and Bakery the way I did. It certainly showed me how much care goes into the making of Wonder Bread. In addition to testing all the ingredients that go into Wonder Bread, they are so interested in good basic nutrition.

"That's why I recommend Wonder Bread for children and for all the family. I can certainly see how Wonder Bread helps make us stronger 12 ways. Wonder Bread has such a wonderful distinctive flavor! I believe it is the best bread made today—even better than the bread my grandmother used to bake."

MORE MOTHERS BUY WONDER BREAD THAN ANY OTHER BRAND THEY KNOW IT HELPS BUILD STRONG BODIES 12 WAYS!

What Wonder Bread Can Do For Your Children, For You And Your Husband

What does a home economist want in a bread?

The same things every mother wants for her family—goodness. Goodness assured by scientific laboratory control in clean bakeries... and top-quality ingredients. Which is why more women buy Wonder Bread than any other brand. They know it helps children grow bigger and stronger 12 ways.

12 Ways To Growth

For normal physical and mental development, children must get a well-balanced diet of protein, fat, carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals, such as come in meats, milk, eggs, fruit, green-leafed and yellow vegetables.

Wonder Bread contains 12 essential food elements that help your child grow normally.

The amounts of these 12 food elements in Wonder Bread are compared with similar amounts contained in other foods.

This does not suggest that Wonder Bread take the place of these other foods. Or that your child is deficient in any of these elements, particularly cobalt, copper, zinc and manganese. However, the fact is Wonder Bread does contain each of the 12 food elements approximately in the amounts shown.

Thus, when you give Wonder Bread to your child, you know you are helping your child grow bigger, and stronger 12 ways.

This suggests that you do 3 things:

- (1) Start your child eating 8 slices of Wonder Bread today.
- (2) Measure your child's height and weigh him today.
- (3) See how height and weight increase in 3 months; 6 months; each year.

Fresh And Tender

You should have no trouble getting your child to eat plenty of big, new Wonder Bread.

Because it is fresh with a tender texture and crust; a mouth-watering aroma. And—makes perfect toast.

Get big, new Wonder Bread fresh from your grocer today. And start helping your child grow bigger and stronger 12 ways.

Love Apple League, Five Years Old, Spreads Cheer

By EDDY GILMORE
GUERNSEY, Channel Islands (AP)—Five years ago a little girl picked a wild primrose—a single primrose that has blossomed into an amazing organization called the Love Apple League.

It has no membership fee. It has no patrons. No executive committee. There is no membership card.

It's run by children. And, it lives on an unselfish thought: Children shut away in hospitals, far from sunny fields, should have flowers.

The girl who did the first picking was named Garth. She was playing with another girl named Gillian.

Millions Of Flowers
Garth stood holding the primrose, looking about her at Gillian and thousands and thousands of primroses on this flowery island.

"What a wonderful sight," gasped Garth. "A million flowers," said Gillian.

"Wouldn't ill children love to see them. I wish we could send just hundreds of them to children lying in hospitals."

"I know it would make them feel better," said Gillian. "Let's pick them," said Garth. "Hundreds of them," said Gillian.

"How're we going to get them to the children?" "I don't know," smiled Garth, "but let's start picking."

Laden with armloads of primroses the children staggered home with their fragrant load and showed them to their father.

"Look," they chorused, "we've picked them for children in hospitals. How can we get them there?"

To The Airport
"Let's take them to the airport," said the father. "So, they and the flowers went to the Guernsey airport."

There they spoke to the first man they saw—Herbert Hill, manager of the airport restaurant.

He listened to their story. "Come with me," he said, making his way to a waiting airliner.

"Captain," asked Hill, "these little girls want you to take these flowers to England—to sick children in English hospitals. Can you do it?"

"I can and I will," he said, loading the primroses into his aircraft.

He flew directly to Birmingham in Britain's industrial midlands. He personally took them to a hospital for children.

Two days later the letters of thanks began to arrive in Guernsey.

Thank You Letters
"Dear Children," one of them began.

"Thank you very, very much for the flowers. It was a beautiful idea. The flowers are so beautiful, too."

"Your flowers are brightening our ward. It gives us great pleasure just to look at them and sniff. 'We are already feeling better.'"

"Maxine Smith of Ward 6," Hill looked at the letter and smiled.

"Now, Garth and Gillian," he said, "you've started something. They had, too."

The idea spread. Other Guernsey children began collecting flowers and bringing them to the airport.

World Wide
The pilots fell in with the idea. Flowers started being delivered all over the world.

"You need a name for your organization," suggested Hill. "Now, what'll it be?"

The tomato is Guernsey's main fruit. They are shipped everywhere. The children wanted to

Scripture Reading Increases Givings

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—A minister put the "Multiplied Talents" idea to work and it paid dividends.

Rev. Max Hickerson, pastor of Central Christian Church, used the scriptural backing in Matthew 25:14-30 to induce his congregation to multiply a dollar into whatever they saw fit. The members backed him by increasing $250 to $1,000.

One man brought in $45 by spending his dollar for white gloves. He sold them and invested his money in more gloves until he came up with the contribution.

connect the flower-sending plan with the tomato. But how?

Finally they settled on the tomato's ancient name—Love Apple.

That's how the Love Apple League got started. Now it has important links all over the world and even is a corporate member of the United Nations Organization. It has more than 14 million members in 20 different countries.

The Love Apples, now five years old, held an international convention in Guernsey between May 20 and May 25.

The keynote was "Worldwide goodwill."

Children attended from England, France, Holland and India and a party of refugee children flown in from Central Europe.

"It's a children's league," said Hill, "and they're going to run it. We just supervise and make suggestions."

LOADED WITH DOUGH
TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Judge Dorothy Young, prior to boarding an airliner, was asked by a friend what she had in her briefcase. She said nothing but frozen cookie dough. She was going to visit her grandchildren.

MISSILE MAN—Brig. Gen. Osmond J. Ritland, 49, is the new chief of the U. S. Air Force's ballistic missile division with headquarters in Inglewood, Calif.

BILL IGNORES IKE'S PLEAS

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $1,177,177,000 money bill to finance development of federal water projects, including several in Pennsylvania, during the next 12 months has been passed by the House and sent to the Senate.

In passing the bill Tuesday by a 380-20 roll call vote, the House turned down President Eisenhower's recommendation that no new projects be started during the 12 months beginning July 1.

The bill carries funds for planning, construction and operation of 364 flood control, navigation and reclamation projects.

The Pennsylvania projects (budget requests of President Eisenhower in parentheses) are:

Monongahela River Dam 8, $725,000 ($725,000); Allentown, $680,000 ($680,000); Bear Creek Reservoir, $3,400,000 ($3,400,000); Bethlehem, $600,000 (1,050,000); Bradford, $2,40,000 ($2,400,000); Dyberry Reservoir, $390,000 ($390,000); Prompton Reservoir, $1,120,000 ($1,120,000); Stillwater, $1,500,000 ($1,500,000); Brookville, $500,000 (none); Shenango River Reservoir, $500,000 (none); Kettle Creek Reservoir $1,900,000 ($2,500,000).

At the start of 1959, 4,925,000 persons were covered by employer-employee pension plans in the United States.

Writer Says Society In America Is Stratifying

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The American home has supplanted the automobile as the nation's favorite status symbol, says reporter Vance Packard, and with there has been "a crumbling of visible class lines."

Packard, author of "The Hidden Persuaders" (which analyzed techniques developed to manipulate American consumers), now has taken a look at the class structure and status system of a nation which often boasts a classless society.

The book is called "The Status Seekers," and it is Packard's view that Americans, consciously and unconsciously, reveal their place on the social ladder — or the place they want on the social ladder — by the houses in which they live, the churches they attend, the clubs to which they belong, the food they eat, the stores in which they shop.

Two Great Divisions

His research, he says, leads him to believe the social classes of the nation are regrouping as two great divisions. One he calls "The Diploma Elite" (because the head of the family usually goes to college) and the other "The Supporting Classes." But these two divisions he breaks down into five smaller classes. At the top of the heap, with the diplomas, he places the "real upper class" and the "semi-upper class." Below them are "the limited-success class," "the working class," and "the real lower class."

The real lower class, says Packard, knows what it is. The working class isn't fighting to jump its wall. It is in the limited-success and the semi-upper class areas that status, status symbols and social climbing are important. And many new, sometimes subtle status symbols have become important, he says, since such oldtime upper-class symbols as limousines, mink coats and power boats have become available to so many in our affluent age.

Status Appeals

The American home is one of them. "American families in the past few years have been giving more and more thought to the problem of establishing a home that adequately reinforces the status image they wish to project," Packard says. "And home builders have happily helped the trend along by emphasizing status appeals."

Each community has its own "status neighborhoods." In some the elite are clustered on high ground; in others, it is nearness to a body of water that counts. Women, Packard insists, are more conscious of status and its symbols than men. And the stores in which they choose to shop and what they buy reveal a good deal about their location on the social scale. And so, indeed, does the way their bills are paid — cash or check. Fast or slow.

Out Of Place

"Women who get beyond their status in their ventures into stores feel uncomfortable," he reports. "There is a widespread feeling among women that store clerks endeavor to maintain what they consider to be the proper tone for their store by snooting customers who seem out of place."

Packard says, too, that one's status shows by what one eats: "In general, conceptions about what foods best serve as treats become more elaborate as you go down the social scale." Upper classes like hard, firm bread; lower classes prefer soft bread. Offbeat foods — venison, wild duck, pompano, caviar — are much better accepted by the two upper classes than by the three lower ones.

Packard, as a reporter, knows that status-striving goes on, all

Method: With a swivel-blade vegetable peeler, pare scales and outer covering from asparagus stalks, up to buds. Wash in hot, then rinse in cold water. Slice into 2-inch diagonal lengths, about ¼ inch thick; slice through buds this same way. Over low heat melt 2 tablespoons of the butter

"I think we should all be happier, and live more stimulating lives if . . . we judged people, not by the symbols they display and the labels they wear but rather by their individual worth," he concludes.

in a deep 10-inch skillet with a dome cover; add asparagus; stir to coat with butter. Add boiling water and salt. Cover and boil fairly rapidly just until tender — about 5 minutes; lift cover several times, mix and watch like a hawk. Uncover; if there is more than a few tablespoons of liquid in skillet, remove excess. Stir in Makes 6 servings.

Note: The asparagus used in testing this recipe was on the thick side — 21 stalks in a 2-pound bunch.

EMPLOYMENT UP A MILLION DURING MONTH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Employment rose by a million in May to a record 66,016,000 for the month. Unemployment fell by 238,000 to 3,389,000.

Announcing the figures Wednesday, Secretary of Commerce Lewis L. Strauss and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said they reflected further substantial improvement in the nation's job picture.

An unusually large pickup in factory employment accompanied a May seasonal rise in farm work. The May total of 66,016,000 employed was the largest number of Americans with jobs for any month of May. It compares with an all-time peak of 67,221,000 set in July, 1957.

Unemployed Drops
The new figures represent a drop of about 1½ million among the unemployed in the past year. However, the idle total is about 700,000 higher than it was in May, 1957.

The ratio of unemployment to the labor force declined in May to 4.9 per cent compared with 5.3 per cent in April and around 6 per cent during last winter. This is the first time the idle ratio has dropped below 5 per cent since November, 1957.

Factory worker earnings averaged $90.32 in May—representing the first time in history the average passed the $90 mark. Earnings among durable goods workers averaged $96. Among soft goods workers it was $80.

GOP MAJORITY SNARLS BILLS

READING, Pa. (AP) — Gov. David L. Lawrence says reapportionment of legislative districts to end gerrymandering is impossible unless the Democrats control both houses of the Legislature.

"Reapportionment depended upon our getting voting control in both houses," the Democratic governor said Tuesday night. "No amount of logic or reason is going to get the Republican Senate to give up its safe districts, no matter how disproportionate the present breakdown of seats."

The Democrats now control the House, the Republicans the Senate. Gerrymandering is the process of setting up election districts in a way that gives one faction or party advantage over another.

Lawrence, who spoke at a banquet of the federation of democratic women, said his administration is using "the reasoned approach" with the GOP majority in the senate to put through his legislative program.

TORNADO HITS FARGO LEAVING HEAVY DAMAGE

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — A tornadoic storm generating winds up to 115 miles an hour ripped through Fargo Tuesday, leaving about 75 homeless and causing property damage running into thousands of dollars.

No casualties were reported in Fargo, scene of a devastating tornado that killed 11 persons and injured many others two years ago almost to the day.

At least one person died in weather violence that swept eastern North Dakota and western Minnesota. An 18-year-old girl, Belica Alonso of Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, was killed by lightning while she was working in a sugar beet field east of Ardock in western North Dakota.

Hits Fairgrounds

A twister reportedly hit the Clearwater County fairgrounds in Bagley, Minn., some 100 miles east of Fargo. Ten buildings were reported destroyed or damaged. The storm disrupted telephone service, temporarily cutting off the community from outside contact.

Striking from a 10-mile-high mass of black clouds, a tornado funnel touched down on the north-east edge of Hector Airport on Fargo's outskirts.

The greyish-white twister whirled along the ground for a half mile through an uninhabited section and then lifted.

It was followed by powerful gusts accompanied by rain and window-smashing hailstones an inch in diameter. About 75 were left homeless when some 25 trailer homes in a lot west of Fargo were bowled over. The downpour flooded basements. Cars were marooned in water backed up from storm sewers.

STRIKE CLOSES 2 NEWSPAPERS IN ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Both St. Louis daily newspapers were closed Wednesday by a strike of St. Louis Stereotypers Union Local 8 against the afternoon Post-Dispatch.

Materials and jurisdiction were involved in the complicated dispute.

The union struck at midnight Tuesday, forcing the morning Globe-Democrat to suspend publication. The Globe, target of a recent 99-day strike by the American Newspaper Guild, is printed by the Post-Dispatch under contract.

The Globe-Democrat's 2 a.m. edition was not published but the newspaper ran off all of its home editions by changing its schedule.

Picket lines were set up at midnight. No negotiations were held Tuesday night.

The Newspaper Guild announced it would observe the picket line. Union printers were told that if they refused to cross the picket lines they did so as individuals, but that this was their prerogative under their contract.

Federal mediator Arthur Hale said that tempers are high and "both sides need a couple of days to cool off."

Reject Offer

The dispute centers around a clause affecting the use of stereotype base material and mountings for advertising and news picture engravings.

A spokesman for the Pulitzer Publishing Co., publishers of the Post-Dispatch, said company and union negotiators agreed on a new contract but the union membership rejected the clause in question.

The company spokesman said management agreed to a union demand for a $10 weekly wage increase for the first year of the contract, retroactive to Jan. 1, and an additional $5 weekly the second year.

MEDICS SCORE MINE WORKERS WELFARE FUND

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A long-standing argument between the American Medical Assn. and the Welfare and Retirement Fund of the United Mine Workers of America flared anew Wednesday.

Dr. Warren Draper of Washington, D. C., executive medical officer of the Mine Workers' fund, said in a speech prepared for the AMA's annual convention that the controversial term "free choice of physician" has not been adequately defined by doctors who are opposed to the way the fund operates.

He said he believed that "this is at the root of most of the controversy" engendered within several state and county medical societies in relation to the medical program of the fund.

Spokesman Raps Fund

AMA spokesmen say that their organization and the fund have been at odds for years, with the AMA having charged repeatedly that the mine workers' fund is a "third party" in the doctor-patient relationship and, as such, "it has no right to judge the competence of physicians."

Draper, in his talk Wednesday, said that too often, the term "free choice of physician" serves as "a rallying cry to awaken an emotional response without an understanding and recognition of the facts."

BUSINESSMEN TEST METTLE ROUGHING IT

WILLIAMS, Ariz. (AP)—Don't go around saying all modern businessmen are softies. Someone may bring up the Bill Williams Mountain Men.

The Mountain Men are an exclusive band of gents who punish themselves brutally just for fun to perpetuate the memory of the rugged trappers who carved an empire from the wilderness of the Old West.

For 51 weeks of the year they're doctors, judges or cafe owners. They live quietly in the Grand Canyon gateway town of Williams, named for a Bible-totin' old trapper.

Buckskins, Beards

But late each winter they grow bushy beards, don buckskin clothing and give up comforts of home for a 5½-day, 165-mile horse-back ride to Phoenix.

The trek is something of a publicity stunt with the ride timed to end at the Arizona State Fairground on opening day of the annual Phoenix Rodeo. But it's no lark for a tenderfoot.

It's an overland trip through steep, cold mountains and parching desert. The part-time adventurers ride all day, cavort and spin tall tales far into the night and then try to catch a few winks in bedrolls thrown on the hard, rocky ground.

Some Drop Out

The Bill Williams Mountain Men have been making their ride for six years and only 29 starters have gone all the way.

The only non-Arizonan to stick the full distance is John F. Monroe, a 63-year old Milwaukee investment banker who did it this year.

Monroe quickly learned why so many who try it drop out along the way—saddle soreness.

"My face was badly sunburned when we reached Phoenix," he says. "But, man, you ought to have seen the other end."

Few outsiders get invitations to join the mountain men on the trek. Monroe got his quite by chance.

Rare Invitation

"A year ago," he recalls, "my wife and I were driving through northern Arizona when we saw this weird mob of buckskin-clad riders. We thought they were a bunch of unemployed shepherders."

"When we found out what they were doing, we got acquainted with them. Later they asked me to make this year's trip, and they probably were laying odds I wouldn't last."

The rub of the saddle isn't the only discomfort.

"Dropping down from the cold, wild country of 7,200 feet into the heat of the desert is a rugged ordeal," says Monroe. "And the rocks under your sleeping bag hardly equal the luxury of the Waldorf-Astoria."

"But the companionship of those men ranks as one of the great events of my life and made it all worthwhile."

The respect was mutual. Monroe's determination convinced the mountain men. They made him an honorary member.

The mountain men don't make the return trip by horseback. They're too sore from the one-way ride and too tired from four days and nights of whooping it up in Phoenix.

WHO-DUN IT ACE PENS DAUGHTER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Kenneth Millar, a mystery writer, has written an impassioned plea that he hopes will solve a mystery in his own family.

Millar, known professionally as Ross McDonald, gave newspapers a letter to his missing 19-year-old daughter, Linda.

"You're the person we love most. Did you ever doubt it?" the letter said.

"You're afraid; you must be afraid, or you'd have come home long since. Believe me, there's nothing to be afraid of."

The girl, a co-ed at the Davis campus of the University of California, vanished 10 days ago while visiting a Lake Tahoe casino with two married men. The men were questioned by police and released.

A psychiatrist said the girl has been under his care. He said she has been haunted with a feeling of guilt since she killed a boy with her car three years ago.

MAULER WAS A CLAIMER

NEW YORK (AP)—Manassa Mauler, a 3-year-old Count Turf colt who upset at 64 to 1 by taking the Wood Memorial at Jamaica, could have been claimed from his second race last September at Belmont Park for $7,500. He was claimed on behalf of Emil Dolce for $12,500 out of a Nov. 19 race at Jamaica.

NAIA PICKS FLORIDA

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—The National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics has signed a five-year contract to play its annual championship football game at St. Petersburg. The last two games were played there. The first test was played at Little Rock, Ark.

POLICE CLASH WITH UNION IN GOTHAM STRIKE

NEW YORK (AP)—Fifty policemen, swinging nightsticks, and about 100 pickets clashed Tuesday in the first outbreak of mass violence in the month-old hospital strike.

Seven pickets were arrested. No serious injuries were reported.

Leon Davis, president of the striking union, called for an investigation by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Protest Vigor

"We vigorously protest the brutal clubbing of the defenseless strikers by the police," he said. "And we call upon Mayor Wagner to investigate and take immediate action against the policemen responsible for these outrageous attacks."

The brief flareup occurred at a medical school graduation ceremony near one of the seven hospitals struck by nonprofessional workers.

The academic procession was made up of the faculty of New York Medical College and 123 students who were to receive degrees. They marched three blocks in 90-degree heat in academic robes. The hospital pickets gradually joined the end of the procession.

The trouble broke out when police formed a solid wall to move the pickets, by then a group almost as large as the procession, out of the line. Doctors and stu-

Joel Walsh, New York City, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Stambaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slothour visited relatives in York Saturday.

Mrs. James Polhemus and daughters, Judy and Jill, are spending some time at Conneaut Lake.

DEMOCRATS' PLAN OKAYED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's Republican leader approved informally Wednesday a Democratic worksheet loaded with political fireworks but omitting any big new spending bills.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) noted in an interview that Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas had included several major requests of President Eisenhower in an outline Tuesday of the work ahead for the Senate.

Among other things, Johnson called for action on "a reasonable civil rights measure which will appears to be not involved. The New York Medical College owns Flower & Fifth Ave. Hospitals, the latest to be struck by the Retail Drug Employees Union.

ASKS INTEREST RATE CEILING BE REMOVED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson has told Congress that removal of the interest rate ceiling on government bonds would not result in increased interest rates generally.

"This is simply not so," Anderson said.

He entered the denial in presenting to the House Ways and Means Committee the administration's request for an increase in the limit on the federal debt, and repeal of the present interest ceiling.

Anderson said refusal by Congress to give the Treasury more competitive elbow room in marketing its securities and managing the debt would actually have an adverse effect by raising worldwide apprehension over the value of the dollar.

Cites Inflation

"Nothing contributes so strongly to forcing interest rates upward as far of inflation," he testified.

"Those investors who want to invest in fixed-dollar obligations (rather than in stocks) will demand higher interest rates to compensate for their expectation of a shrinking purchasing power of future repayment of principal and interest."

The administration sent in its first team to back up the financing proposals.

In addition to Anderson, the assignment to testify was given to Budget Director Maurice Stans and William M. Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

It appeared in advance that the proposal to wipe out the interest rate ceiling would have tough sledding.

Democrats Oppose

Democrats backed away from abandonment of the 4½ per cent limit on government bond rates, first enacted in the administration of Woodrow Wilson and continued in force during two world wars.

If Congress approves, the government plans also to raise from 3¼ to 3½ per cent the interest rate on both present and future savings bonds, effective June 1.

Eisenhower asked Congress to raise the debt limit to 295 billion dollars for a year, within 5 billion of the all-time top existing, but never reached, during World War II. In 1946, at war's end, the actual debt was only 269 billions.

pea to free men who wish to make progress rather than make an issue," Dirksen said he agrees sponsors are going to have to tread this politics-mined field cautiously if they want to pass a bill.

Of Johnson's list of priority measures, Dirksen ticked off a number of others he recalled Eisenhower had requested.

These included extension of the agricultural trade development, international wheat agreement and excise tax rates; military and atomic energy construction; foreign aid and creation of an inter-American development bank.

However, the Republican leader said he can't predict these will be passed in a form acceptable to the President.

Method: Drain herring thoroughly. Cut top leaf and root ends from radishes; clean and slice thin. Wash and pare cucumber leaving enough skin on to give striped effect; slice thin. Turn cottage cheese, buttermilk and lemon juice into an electric blender; blend until smooth, stirring down once or twice. Method: Have chicken cut so there are 10 pieces; reserve giblets, neck and wing tips for broth another time. Wash and drain in colander. Melt butter over low heat; remove from heat and stir in salt, pepper and paprika. Dip chicken pieces, one at a time, in seasoned butter and then in crumbs; spoon crumbs over chicken to coat well. Place in shallow foil-lined baking pan; a 15 by 10 by 1 inch jelly-roll pan is fine. Bake, uncovered, in moderate (350 degrees) oven until tender when tested with a fork — 1 hour. Makes 4 servings.

Ingredients: 3 large eggs (separated), 3 tablespoons water, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1½ tablespoons butter, ½ cup finely-grated cheddar cheese.

With clean beater, beat together egg whites, water and salt until when beater is slowly withdrawn peaks that flop over slightly form. Fold yolks into whites so there are no blobs of beaten white left. Slowly heat butter in a heavy 9-inch skillet (with a heat-resistant handle); add omelet mixture. Cook slowly until puffed almost to top of skillet and underside is lightly browned. Sprinkle with cheese. Place in slow (300 degrees) oven until a knife inserted in center comes out clean — 10 to 12 minutes. Loosen edges of omelet; cut in half; re-½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup strained range juice, ½ cup cold water, 1 teaspoon vanilla, butter, Cottage Cheese Filling.

Heat about ½ teaspoon butter in an 8-inch skillet; hold skillet off heat and add about 2 tablespoons batter; swirl off heat so mixture covers pan. Brown rapidly on one side; turn out on board, unbrown side; repeat. Add about ¼ teaspoon butter each time, continue making pancakes. Put a generous tablespoonful of the cheese mixture at one end of pancake; turn side edges over and roll up. Heat pancakes in hot butter in large skillet. Serve hot with sour cream or whipped sweet cream flavored with lemon juice.

Scribe Wants To Know Why Don't All Men Wear Beards And A Few Other Deep Ones

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Why? Why? Why?

Do women constantly tug at the tops of their bathing suits at a beach or swimming pool?

Why don't all men wear beards?

Why don't people learn to stop sticking their unlovely noses into the business of other people? My father used to tell about a man out West who lived to a prosperous old age simply by minding his own (censored) business.

Why don't more people look on marriage as an adventure instead of a 20-years-to-life penitentiary sentence?

More Questions

Why are politicians? Why are children all poets? Son David remarked the other day that a brief spatter of warm rain was like God sweating. I doubt if even the bishop would take exception to that one.

Why don't cats admit to being cats? Why do they prance like horses, slither like cobras, dangle like monkeys and demand all the privileges of expensive women?

Why is that people, who say they don't have time to read, watch television or go to the movies in their spare time?

Why do Americans, whether they're from Brooklyn or Seattle, seem to speak foreign languages with a Kansas accent?

Why does whisky make a married man see double but act single?

Why are villains in stories always more interesting than nice people?

Why do the doctors who warn you about lung cancer usually smoke more than you do?

Why do people who get you out of bed at 2 a.m. sound as if it's your fault that they dialed a wrong number?

Why, when you come right down to it, does anybody ever do anything?

Urge Ike To Check For Mafia In U. S.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—President Eisenhower has been urged to order an investigation to determine whether the Mafia, an Italian secret society, operates in the United States.

The Order Italian Sons and Daughters of America asked the action Wednesday in full-page advertisements carried in Pittsburgh's three daily newspapers.

Various writers and public officials have concluded that a Mafia branch exists in the United States and that it is linked to a nationwide crime syndicate, the Order said.

As a result, the Order said, "12 million decent American men, women and children of Italian origin are being forced to pay the price for the misdeeds of a slovenly hundredfold of cheap racketeers."

Friday To Be AP Day In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Friday is Associated Press Day in Pittsburgh.

It was so designated Wednesday by Mayor Thomas Gallagher in a proclamation presented to Thomas R. Nunan Jr. of Lancaster, president of the Pennsylvania Associated Press Broadcasters Assn.

The day will mark the association's annual convention scheduled for today and Friday.

The proclamation called on Pittsburghers "to give due recognition to the organization which plays such a significant role in building an informed public, thus strengthening the democracy we cherish."

Michigan State's basketball team attracted 103,504 fans to its home games this season, a new MSU record.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev has proved his point: that only the top men—the "heavyweights" — can call the shots or really settle anything and that their foreign ministers are only their messenger boys.

The month-old Geneva meeting of the ministers — American, Soviet, British, French — has become almost farcical. Four weeks of talking and nothing accomplished, nothing settled.

Dead-pan Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko can't agree, decide or yield on anything unless his boss, Khrushchev, says so. So far Khrushchev has only told him to be polite, stand still, and keep his mouth open.

Fruitless Meetings

The lead on The Associated Press story out of Geneva after Tuesday's session — as fruitless as any which preceded it — was like a pathetic footnote on a shadow dance.

It said: "The Western foreign ministers showed deep concern today that the Geneva conference may collapse unless Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev intervenes quickly to break the deadlock."

That has been true from the beginning. Nobody — certainly not the Western ministers — had any illusion to the contrary. Everything depended on Khrushchev. Gromyko was just his frontman.

The only reason he permitted the ministers' meeting at all was because the West — principally Eisenhower — had insisted on it as a necessary preliminary to a later summit meeting between Eisenhower and Khrushchev.

Eisenhower actually laid down two conditions for a summit conference. First, the foreign ministers must meet; second, they must show some progress, which would mean agreement, or concessions, on something.

But there had always been an underlying irony in the President's requirements: any concession or agreement by the Soviets at Geneva would actually be a concession by Khrushchev which he could just as well have made at a summit meeting.

Nevertheless, Eisenhower had a point of his own in the two conditions he laid down. It was like telling Khrushchev: if you really mean business, prove it at Geneva before you and I get together; otherwise, I'd just have to hope you meant business.

Yet from the beginning, Khrushchev has created a dilemma for Eisenhower.

A ministers' meeting could break up without any agreement — Khrushchev could be using it to prove it was a waste of time for anyone but the top men to talk — but that would not necessarily prove he couldn't do business at the summit.

If Khrushchev, who thinks so little of the ministers' meeting, now lets Gromyko make a concession before the ministers break up, it will probably be only to deprive Eisenhower of any argument against meeting him at the summit.

COLT IS A HARDY ONE

DENVER (AP) — Any purse money that a 2-year-old colt named Me Monarch wins at Centennial Track this summer will be like money from home. He's lucky to be alive.

After he was foaled in March, 1957, the colt wandered away in a snowstorm and tumbled into an excavation 10 feet deep. He had three nasty cuts on the hip when his owner, E. O. Ferguson, found him.

But now Me Monarch, his owner says, is ready to run.

Glib, Ambitious, Gifted And Folksy Huey Founded Long Empire In Louisiana

Editor's Note: Huey P. Long introduced Louisiana to a type of government it had never known when he became governor in 1928. Gov. Earl K. Long, his younger brother who was confined to a Texas psychiatric clinic two weeks ago, is the unchallenged master of a three-part series traces Huey's rise to power.

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP News Feature Writer
BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—At night a spotlight beams down from the 34-story Louisiana State Capitol on the sunken garden where Huey P. Long lies buried beneath his massive bronze statue.

By day there are flowers and tourists and an occasional unforgotten friend or foe pausing in remembrance of the incredible era when every man was promised he would be king — and one man almost made it.

But night or day Huey's stocky shadow falls across Louisiana, dividing its people as it has for the past 30 years into two hostile, politically powerful factions: those who revere the late Kingfish as the best friend the poor man ever had, and those who remember him as a ruthless tyrant, petty, vulgar and vindictive.

House Huey Built

This is the house that Huey built. His name, his image, his memory stamped indelibly on the electorate. The resulting Long vs. anti-Long alignment of voters provides the state with the South's only equivalent of a thriving two-party system.

When Gov. Earl K. Long, Huey's younger brother, was shot full of sedatives and flown off to a Texas mental clinic after two profane and abusive speeches to the Legislature, Louisiana added another dramatic chapter in the bizarre history of its famous political dynasty.

"Comeback Power"

Speculation continues that perhaps this is the last chapter, that Earl Long even if he returns to health can never again pick up the pieces of his badly shaken political empire.

But in the past the Longs have shown amazing comeback power. The dynasty survived impeachment, assassination, million-dollar scandals, several reform waves and numerous interfamily battles without losing its emotional tug on the hearts of the people.

LOCAL CUSTOM — Indian Premier Nehru rides into Himalayan resort town of Mussoorie to inaugurate the tourist season. Motor traffic is banned in the town.

First there was Huey, the founder and still patron saint of the dynasty.

Glib, Gifted, Folksy

The eighth of nine children of a backwoods farmer in the pine lands of Winn Parish, north-central Louisiana, Huey entered public life as a traveling salesman.

Glib, ambitious, gifted with folksy philosophy and earthy humor, Huey peddled a kitchen lard door to door, and studied law in his spare time. Sitting out World War I because he "wasn't mad at anybody," he won election to the Railway Commission, promptly became a hero by championing the "little people" in tilts with the Standard Oil Co., the telephone company and major utilities.

Elected Governor

By the time he was 30, the minimum age for qualifying, Huey ran for governor, promising free school text books, free trapping, good roads and reduced gas tax. Rain kept his growing uplands following from turning out in the expected numbers, but four years later he swept in on the wings of bigger and better promises.

"Naval stores" is a trade term for turpentine and resin. It dates from the time when wooden sailing vessels needed them to lubricate rope to raise or lower the sails.

LONDON (AP) — A thief with good taste in jewels and a set of keys slipped into the apartment of American movie producer David Rose and his wife Tuesday night and stole $56,000 worth of jewelry. Mrs. Rose reported five pieces missing from a locked jewel chest in a bedroom wardrobe. Detectives said the thief apparently knew where the jewels were kept for nothing else in the apartment was disturbed.

BORGHOLM, Sweden (AP) — A Soviet officer and his Polish girl friend arrived here together Monday night and asked for political asylum, police reported Tuesday.

A Soviet sailor took them across the Baltic Sea from Poland to Sweden. Police said it is not clear whether the sailor ferried the refugees over voluntarily or at pistol point, but he seemed to want to go back to Poland.

Police withheld names.

HARDY OLDSTER
SEMINOLE, Okla. (AP) — I. A. Smith has two sons who retired after reaching 65, but he's still going strong.
